Ike Receives Many Gifts For His Gettysburg Country Home

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER, Pa. — President Eisenhower, safely into the fourth week of convalescence, holds another Cabinet level hospital conference today with joyful observance of his 65th birthday still fresh in mind.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was flying in from Washington for an afternoon bedside meeting with the President. Humphrey planned a news conference later at the Denver White House.

The Eisenhower-Humphrey talk probably will deal with federal budget problems, particularly administration officials' fading hopes for bringing spending income and out-go into balance for the fiscal year ending June 30. The President hasn't discussed such matters since he suffered a "moderate" heart attack three weeks ago today in the early morning hours.

Returning to Denver with Humphrey was Eisenhower's chief deputy, Sherman Adams, who has been shuttling between here and Washington as top liaison man between officials in the capital and the recuperating President.

Thousands Of Messages

The recent recuperation was heavy—and the brightest yet—yesterday as the President, in a quiet way, really celebrated the 65th anniversary of his birthday.

There were gifts galore and the flood of congratulatory messages from the plain folks and the high and the mighty all over the world numbered, presidential aides reported, in the tens of thousands.

Probably the finest birthday present Eisenhower received was word from his Fitzsimons Army Hospital doctors that yesterday, for the first time, his cardiogram—indicating status of the heart healing process—had "stabilized at a satisfactory level."

The doctors have estimated he will be in the hospital until about Nov. 5, or possibly a week longer until Nov. 12.

Flowers From Homestead

For Eisenhower, his birthday yesterday was indeed a happy one. Among the remembrances he undoubtedly cherished most was a bouquet of red roses and autumn flowers from the family homestead garden of his late mother at Abilene, Kan.

From the President's Cabinet, the White House staff and Republican party units in all 48 states came gifts for the Eisenhower's new country home at Gettysburg, Pa.—flowering quince and Norway spruce trees for the lane leading from the highway, and a garden of flowering plants and shrubs for the semicircular driveway in front of the house.

"Seven Years" Here

On behalf of the White House staff, Sherman Adams, wrote the President of the "serene years" that lie ahead at Gettysburg—and thereby touched off speculation whether Eisenhower privately may have confirmed the general impression here—that he won't seek reelection.

But an aide who asked not to be named said that so far as he knows there has been no such word from the President—and that there was no hidden significance in Adams' mention of serene years.

70 HORSEMEN WILL TAKE PART IN HORSE SHOW

Approximately 70 horsemen and women from throughout the county will take part Sunday afternoon in the annual Adams County Horse Show sponsored by the Gettysburg Riding Club and featuring a number of events for youngsters and teen-agers.

Charles W. Jacobs is general chairman for the 14-class show which is restricted to drivers and horses from Adams County. The local riding club invited the Littlestown riding group, but said the invitation included only those members of the Mason-Dixon club who resided in Adams County.

Officials stress that Sunday's program will be a "strictly for fun" event. The only awards will be ribbons. There will be no admission for spectators and no entry fees for the contestants. A collection will be taken and refreshments sold.

John Scenell, Fairfield R. D., will be judge, except in events in which he has horses entered—then other members of the club, who do not have entries, will do the judging. Harold Brown will be announcer, and there will be a loud speaker system. Clifford Naugle will be steward and Carl Oyer, ringmaster. Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner will be secretary.

The show will get underway at noon Sunday with a lead line pony event for children six years of age or under. An open western class will follow. The third class is for ponies ridden by riders between the ages of six and 16.

Barrel racing will be featured in two classes, one for adults and one for children. Final event of the afternoon will be an egg race in which all are expected to participate.

Postpone Peanut Sale To Tuesday

Because of the postponement of the Gettysburg-Middletown football game from Friday to Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at Middletown, because of rain, the house-to-house sale of peanuts by the Gettysburg High School band has been postponed until Tuesday it was announced today. The sale in rural areas will be conducted beginning Wednesday.

Conducted by the Junior and Senior bands of the Gettysburg Joint School System, the sale is being sponsored by the band boosters club for the benefit of new uniforms and equipment.

The Gettysburg Recreation Association Board will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Fire House.

DIVIDEND CHECKS MAILED BY BANKS

The First National Bank of Gettysburg Friday afternoon mailed checks, totalling $5,000, representing a special two per cent dividend on the bank's stock.

Authorized to be paid to stockholders of record as of September 10, the amount is payable as of today.

President Edmund W. Thomas said the special dividend brings to $20,000 the amount that has been paid in 1955 to the bank's stockholders and brings to eight per cent the amount of dividends they have been paid this year on their holdings.

In January a three per cent regular dividend was paid, totalling $7,500, to the stockholders. In July a second three per cent dividend, another $7,500, was paid.

Thomas said the eight per cent dividend this year marks the largest return made to the stockholders since "pre-depression years."

The Gettysburg Lions Club will hold its regular weekly meeting Monday evening at the Shetter House at 6 o'clock. Paul H. Glenn, game warden, will show pictures and speak on the game situation. Members of the Community Betterment committee will meet.

He Was 7 Hours Early But He'll Be Called Dwight

PORT CHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The stork brought him seven hours too early, but they named him Dwight D. Eisenhower anyway.

Mrs. Donald Eisenhower, of Armonk, N. Y., had her baby Thursday at the Port Chester Hospital, seven hours before the President's 65th birthday.

Friday the happy parents said: "We had hoped the baby would be born on the President's birthday, but we're both so happy that it doesn't matter."

Said the husband: "If it had been a girl, it probably would have been named Mamie."

The Port Chester Eisenhowers are not related to the President.

Wreckage Of Death Car Friday Evening

30 PARIS BOYS TO SING OCT. 27 AT ST. JOSEPH'S

The Little Singers of Paris, a group of boys 11 and 12 years of age, will give a concert Thursday evening, October 27, at 7:30 o'clock in De Paul Auditorium, St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, as part of the Mount St. Mary's — St. Joseph College lecture and concert series. The group will present a repertoire of secular and religious music.

Founded in 1907, the group is directed by Monsignor Mallet who has been with the singers since 1924. From the beginning, travel has been the mission of the group. Since its founding the choir has been the mission of the group. Since its founding the choir has been nearly 7,000 concerts on every continent except Australia.

Taking as their cue the "Moto Proprio" of Pope Pius X, the founders intended only to render music of a sacred nature. While remaining faithful to the original purpose the choir has added secular selections to their program.

Their two-fold repertoire includes, among liturgical selections, Gregorian Chant, pre-Palestinian music, Palestrinian masterpieces, and contemporary works by Darius Milhaud and Paul Bernier. Their secular repertoire includes 16th century French madrigals, works of contemporary composers and folklore songs of French provinces and other countries.

The Little Singers heads an international federation, Pueri Cantores, numbering more than two thousand choir groups on every continent. The object of Pueri Cantores is to teach children to appreciate liturgical music and to promote among its members of all nationalities bonds of fraternal understanding and fellowship.

$260 Damage In Two-Car Collision

None was injured and damage totaled $260 Friday afternoon at 3:55 o'clock when two cars collided 2.2 miles north of New Oxford on the New Chester Rd.

State police said Helena H. Weaver, 33, Carlisle St., a student and housewife, was driving south while a car operated by Dale Eugene Clark, 35, Bendersville TV and appliance salesman, was traveling north.

The Weaver car was damaged to the extent of $10. The Clark car had damage totalling $250. Most of the damage to the Clark vehicle came when it ran into a ditch. Clark alleged that he drove into the ditch to avoid a collision, and that the Weaver car was in the center of the highway.

TO OPEN CENTER IN HUNTERSTOWN ON WEDNESDAY

Hunterstown's Community Center, library, Good News Club headquarters and eventually band practice room, will open Wednesday evening when library service begins in what was once the Deatrick Brothers' grocery store. Mrs. Dora Ford, New Oxford R. 2, said today.

The center grew out of the organization of the Good News Club about three years ago, when a number of people considering the possibility of more activities in Hunterstown planned the establishment of a community center.

George Moore made the community center possible by offering two rooms of his house. The two rooms comprise what once was Deatrick Brothers store. The partition was torn out between the rooms and one 22 by 32 foot room developed.

Still Incomplete

The center, as Mrs. Ford points out, has a "long way to go" before it secures all the proposed facilities. To help raise funds a sacred concert will be presented by the South Mountain Male Chorus at Great Conewago Presbyterian Church, October 30 at 7:30 p.m. Funds raised by the concert will be divided between the chorus and the community center according to the arrangements made with Charles L. Rowland, Shippensburg, director. The chorus is made up of businessmen and farmers from Chambersburg to Carlisle and represents six denominations. Rowland, its director, is retired from the music faculty of Juniata College. The program will include such numbers as "The Lord's Prayer," "Crossing the Bar," "The

ADAMS COUNTY'S OLDEST 4-H CLUB SEEKS MEMBERS

Adams County's oldest 4-H club is seeking more members for its 31st year which begins on November 15. The Baby Beef club has openings for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 20 years. Fred H. Attinger, associate county farm agent, announced.

Those who wish to join may attend a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Glenn and Martha Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4, or may notify the county agent's office in the court house.

The only requirements are that the members be within the ages for 4-H work and secure a steer, between 300 and 500 pounds, before November 15, the first meeting of the new year for the club.

Seek Forty Members

Attinger said a steer may be secured locally, or by notifying him. Attinger leaves tonight for Colorado to select a number of suitable animals and will return Wednesday. The Colorado steers are Herefords. Most of the members this year are planning to fatten Herefords, although a number plan to raise Angus steers. Attinger said last year 24 of the fattened were Herefords. Two years ago the majority was Angus.

The club had 31 members during the year which closes in November. Eight of those members will "graduate" and 11 new members have already signed for the new club in addition to those who are continuing in the work for another year.

Attinger said he hopes to have about 40 members in the club when it starts its 1956 steer fattening program. Among those who have signed so far as new members are Susan Todd, Littlestown R. 2; Miriam Spunk, Hanover R. 4; Rosalie Steenberger, Gettysburg R. 4; Charles and Shirley Sterner, Gettysburg R. 3; David Sibert, New Oxford R. 2; Daniel Vingling Jr., Gettysburg R. D.; and Billy Weaver, Cardners R. D.

NEW DRUGGIST AT LOCAL STORE

Paul B. MacDonald, registered pharmacist, has joined the staff of Peoples Drug Store, York St.

A graduate of Temple University School of Pharmacy, Philadelphia, MacDonald is a veteran of four years service with the USAF. Upon release from active duty with the Air Force he was assistant supervisor of the Hospital Pharmacy, Sampson Air Force Base, General N. Y., the largest hospital under the direction of the Department of the Air Force.

Married to the former Jane F. Carey, R.N., of Mead, Pa., the couple has three children: Wayne, aged two, and twin daughters, Lisa Jeanne and Lynn Ruth, aged seven months.

He moved to Gettysburg, September 23, from Lodi, New York.

MacDonald is a member of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association, the American Pharmaceutical Association, Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity and Mead Lodge 664, P.M.A.

Peoples Drug Store will celebrate its 45th anniversary beginning Monday.

The MacDonalds formerly resided at Old Fox. They now reside at 205 DuPont Ave.

Adams County Farm Agent Fred H. Attinger has moved to his new address, 401 E. 1st St., 4-661, 24th Squad, 199th AFB, Denver, Colo.

RALLY DAY TO BE OBSERVED

The annual rally day program will be held by St. James Lutheran Sunday School Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock.

The Senior and Intermediate Departments will join the Adult Department for the program. Dr. Abdul Ross Wentz, retired president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, will speak. Music will include vocal solo by Miss Sally Smith and Ronald Drizer and orchestra under the direction of Edwin Lonzancker. The Sunday School room will be decorated with flowers furnished by the Mothers' Class.

Mrs. Robert Johnson, Gettysburg R. D., will be the speaker in the Primary Department. Mrs. Johnson, who is blind, will be accompanied by her son, Robert Johnson, department will have special programs in observance of the day.

Four Persons Are Killed When Auto Crashes Into Concrete Bridge Wall On Bonneville Road Early This Morning; Car Is Demolished

C. T. ZIEGLER EXPIRES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Charles T. Ziegler, 76, well-known retired business man and Spanish-American War Veteran, died Friday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock at his home, 127 Springs Ave., following an illness of a year. He was bedfast four and one-half months.

He was born in Gettysburg, a son of the late William T. and Rebecca (Herman) Ziegler, and resided most of his life here. He was proprietor of the Blue Parrot tea room for about 20 years, retiring about 10 years ago.

The deceased received his early education in Gettysburg public schools and graduated from the Gettysburg Academy. He was a member of the Class of 1901 at Gettysburg College.

He was a member of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, Gettysburg Elks and Eagles, Good Samaritan Lodge 336 of the Masons, Royal Arch Chapter 226, Gettysburg Commandery 72, Mohammed Shrine of Peoria, Ill., and Sgt. William M. Seffy Camp 126 of which he was a past commander.

Funeral On Monday

During the Spanish-American War he served as a second lieutenant in Co. M, 5th Infantry Regiment, and was the youngest commissioned officer in his regiment. He enlisted in July, 1898, and was discharged November 7, 1898.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Treva Weikert, with whom he observed his 25th wedding anniversary July 1; three children, Mrs. Robert K. Helmut, Secane, Pa.; William T. 3rd, Gettysburg, and C. Robert, at home; two grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. John D. Lippy, Gettysburg.

Funeral services Monday at 2 p.m. at the Bender Funeral Home conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

The family has requested that friends do not call at the funeral home prior to the services.

Four persons were fatally injured at 12:05 o'clock this morning, when their car crashed into a concrete bridge wall about 4 1/2 miles east of here on the Bonneville Rd.

Three of the occupants were killed instantly. One, Eva Wagaman, approximately 40, Gettysburg R. 5, died at 4 this morning at the Warner Hospital.

Killed in the crash were her son, Henry Ervin Wagaman, 14, Gettysburg R. 5; her nephew, Charles E. Wagaman Jr., 24, Fairfield R. 2, and Lawrence F. Klosterman Jr., 21, Gettysburg R. 2.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, who with state police conducted the investigation into the fatal crash, said all suffered numerous fractures, bruises, and cuts. Charles Wagaman's left leg was severed just below the knee.

The four had been at the home of Eva Wagaman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 5, about two miles from the scene of the crash. The elder Wagamans, parents and grand parents of three of the four killed, said the four had been at the home. They were singing they said and Klosterman and the Wagaman youth had been playing guitars during most of the night.

Motorist Sees Wreck

About midnight, five minutes before the estimated time of the crash, the four told the elder Mr. and Mrs. Wagaman that they planned to "run into town." Mr. and Mrs. Wagaman, when informed of the deaths, said they believed the group was planning to go to Gettysburg when they left the Wagaman home.

Apparently they turned toward Bonneville instead when they reached the Gettysburg-Bonneville Rd. off the township road leading to the Wagaman home.

A passing motorist found the wreck and called state police, saying he believed someone had been killed in the crash.

Police and Dr. Crist found the car literally wrapped around the west side of the south bridge wall. The dashboard was flat against one end of the wall. Part of the car was on the bridge and the rest was dangling toward Chicken Creek, on the south side of the bridge wall. The car had been headed east when it crashed.

Roof Torn Off

The roof of the car had been torn loose and hurled 25 feet. Henry Wagaman was found crumpled in the roof of the car. His mother was on the grass, near the road, also about 25 feet east of the car. Charles E. Wagaman Jr. was lying on the east bank of the stream, about 15 feet from the wreckage. Klosterman's right leg was pinned under the dashboard, and at first it was thought that it had been severed. The car had to be pulled from the bridge and packed up to free Klosterman.

Pieces Widely Scattered

The motor was hurled 24 feet east of the car. The car's heater was found 120 feet east of the vehicle. Other parts of the car were scattered for a distance of 105 feet from the vehicle.

The Gettysburg ambulance and Gettysburg Fire Department Rescue squad were called by police.

Firemen On Duty

Miss Wagaman was removed to the Warner Hospital in the ambulance while the Rescue Squad set up portable lights and flares. The Bonneville fire department, also called, stood by with a pumper in case of fire and aided in the traffic duties. Police and Dr. Crist expressed their appreciation to both fire departments.

Police estimated damage to the auto at $2,800. A new Ford, it had been driven about 2,000 miles before the crash. It was owned by Klosterman's father, L. Frederick Klosterman, Gettysburg R. 2.

EQUITY ACTION MAY BE HEARD WITHOUT JURY

With eleven civil suits listed for the November term of court, much of the interest will probably center on an equity action which may go to trial without a jury.

The action is the injunction sought by approximately 90 residents and property owners in the northern end of the town against Charles H. Huber Jr., Gettysburg, and Elizabeth Huber Welch, Philadelphia, to prevent the construction of a filling station at the Huber property on the northeast side of the Lincoln Ave.-Carlisle St. intersection. The suit has been before the county court for some time with various arguments and now is scheduled to go to trial at next month's term of court.

Other continued cases listed for the November term by Prothonotary Wayne K. Shields are the trespass action brought by Anna B. Moore, Waterford, Conn., against Clarence Yeager, Shamokin, and Joseph Markle, Reading, and a trespass action brought by Harry M. and Minnie L. Wigle, Washington, administrators of the estate of Harry O. Wigle, against Duane M. Hall and Vinton D. Hall, Gettysburg R. 4.

Of the eight new civil cases scheduled for the coming term, seven are actions in trespass. There is also one assumption action, brought by U. H. Mecke, McSherrystown, against James E. Schwenk, Gettysburg.

FRED G. KLUNK IS IMPROVING

Fred G. Klunk, New Oxford pretzel manufacturer and chairman of the Adams County Democratic Committee, is reported "improving" in the Harrisburg General Hospital following a seizure Thursday in his office in Harrisburg.

Dr. Wilbur H. Miller, Klunk's family physician, who was called to Harrisburg to confer with specialists there reported that the patient "was out of the oxygen tent and making progress." Dr. Miller said that the cause of Klunk's illness had not yet been determined. The latest electrocardiogram was negative.

75 Mile Winds And 5 Inches Of Rain Swish Pennsylvania

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More rain was predicted for waterlogged Pennsylvania today on the anniversary of Hurricane Hazel's visit which cut a swath of destruction and death across the state exactly one year ago today.

Officially, the forecast was for clearing in the morning but in the afternoon, showers were forecast. And the bureau said they might be locally severe in some spots.

Yesterday's storm—described as an "extra tropical cyclone"—a storm with some of the attributes of a hurricane—blew up suddenly Thursday and moved across the state Friday, bringing winds close to hurricane force (75 mph) in some areas and rain totals of some measuring up to five inches.

All Highways Open

Hardest hit was the central Pennsylvania area. The Harrisburg Weather Bureau reported general flooding along the Chemung, Juniata, West Branch of the Susquehanna and North Branch of the Susquehanna Rivers. Severe local flooding was reported in the vicinity of Williamsport, Canton, Danville, Muncy and Milheim.

But by late last night, the waters appeared to be receding. All main highways were reported open. About 40 families evacuated from their homes in Danville when small streams inundated the main street were able to return to their own or neighbors' homes at nightfall.

Hotel Roof Ripped Off

The force of the wind was indicated by a reading at the Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton Airport where one gust was recorded at 89 miles per hour. That area reported the usual storm damage and inconveniences. Besides uprooted trees and power failures, the three-story Arlington Hotel in Slatington lost its roof at the height of the blow. Six hundred homes in Bethlehem were without power for about an hour until crews restored power lines blown down.

Homes in Lehighton and Jim Thorne suffered similar inconveniences.

Creek Overflows

In the Stroudsburg area, the Lehigh Broadhead Creek, which took 67 lives when it turned into a gushy torrent during Hurricane Dora in August, was reported overflowing its banks in some low spots, but doing little damage.

67 RECEIVE TAX RELIEF

Owners of 67 properties received assessment relief by appealing to the county commissioners. It was announced today.

A tally of the results of the appeals made during September shows that 157 persons appeared before the commissioners for hearings in which 167 properties were involved. More than 4,000 changes in assessments were made this year, but only 157 owners appeared for hearings.

All of the hearings were heard in September, but final decision was not made on 30 until the commissioners had viewed the properties.

In 25 appeals the commissioners made no change, deciding that the properties were accurately valued by the assessors.

In 47 cases the assessment figures were revised downward, by sums ranging from $25 to $700. A majority of the reductions were by sums of $25 to $50, only a few over $200, and only one was listed in which the value was dropped by $700.

In two of the cases the values were raised upward, one of them by $750.

Greyhound Bus Crashes Into Parked Truck Killing Six

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Six passengers in a two-decker Greyhound bus were killed and 20 others injured—several reported critical—today when it crashed into a parked semitrailer truck.

Capt. Ogden Jarvis of the Michigan City police said at least six of the 20 injured were in critical condition in hospitals.

Jarvis said six were killed when the big, new bus crashed into the semitrailer on U.S. 20, a four-lane highway, about six miles east of Michigan City.

The dead were identified by state police as four women and two men. Jarvis said there were reportedly 26 persons on the bus, which was bound from Chicago to New York City.

The police captain, on the scene shortly after the crash, said one of the critically injured was the bus driver, Thomas Locke, 39, of Chicago.

He said the bus rammed the rear of the truck and the impact pushed the front part some 10 feet to the start of the second deck.

"There appeared to have been no panic," Capt. Jarvis said. "Everybody on the bus was hurt, some fatally."

Four people were fatally injured at 12:05 o'clock this morning when the car in which they were riding smashed into a concrete bridge wall on the Bonneauville Rd. Part of the car is shown with the driver, Lawrence F. Klosterman Jr., 21, pinned in the wreckage.

30 PARIS BOYS TO SING OCT. 27 AT ST. JOSEPH'S

The Little Singers of Paris, a group of boys 11 and 12 years of age, will give a concert Thursday evening, October 27, at 7:30 o'clock in De Paul Auditorium, St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, as part of the Mount St. Mary's — St. Joseph College lecture and concert series. The group will present a repertoire of secular and religious music.

Founded in 1907, the group is directed by Monsignor Maillet who has been with the singers since 1924. From the beginning, travel has been the mission of the group. Since its founding the choir has been the mission of the group. Since its founding the choir has given nearly 7,000 concerts on every continent except Australia.

Taking as their cue the "Moto Proprio" of Pope Pius X, the founders intended only to render music of a sacred nature. While remaining faithful to the original purpose the choir has added secular selections to their program.

Their two-fold repertoire includes, among liturgical selections, Gregorian Chant, pre-Palestinian music, Palestrinian masterpieces, and contemporary works by Darius Milhaud and Paul Berthier. Their secular repertoire includes 18th century French madrigals, works of contemporary composers and folk songs of French provinces and other countries.

The Little Singers heads an international federation, Puert Cantores, numbering more than two thousand choir groups on every continent. The object of Puert Cantores is to teach children to appreciate liturgical music and to promote among its members of all nationalities bonds of fraternal understanding and fellowship.

$260 Damage In Two-Car Collision

None was injured and damage totaled $260 Friday afternoon at 3:55 o'clock when two cars collided 2.2 miles north of New Oxford on the New Chester Rd.

State police said Helena H. Weaver, 33, Carlisle St., a student and housewife, was driving south while a car operated by Dale Eugene Clark, 35, Bendersville TV and appliance salesman, was traveling north.

The Weaver car was damaged to the extent of $10. The Clark car had damage totalling $250. Most of the damage to the Clark vehicle came when it ran into a ditch. Clark alleged that he drove into the ditch to avoid a collision, and that the Weaver car was in the center of the highway.

TO OPEN CENTER IN HUNTERSTOWN ON WEDNESDAY

Hunterstown's Community Center, library, Good News Club headquarters and eventually hand practice room, will open Wednesday evening when library service begins in what was once the Deatrick Brothers' grocery store. Mrs. Dora Ford, New Oxford R. 2, said today.

The center grew out of the organization of the Good News Club about three years ago, when a number of people considering the possibility of more activities in Hunterstown planned the establishment of a community center.

George Moore made the community center possible by offering two rooms of his house. The two rooms comprise what once was Deatrick Brothers store. The partition was torn out between the rooms and one 22 by 32 foot room developed.

Still Incomplete
The center, as Mrs. Ford points out, has a "long way to go" before it secures all the proposed facilities.

To help raise funds a sacred concert will be presented by the South Mountain Male Chorus at Great Conewago Presbyterian Church, October 30 at 7:30 p.m. Funds raised by the concert will be divided between the chorus and the community center according to the arrangements made with Charles L. Rowland, Shippensburg, director. The chorus is made up of businessmen and farmers from Chambersburg to Carlisle and represents six denominations. Rowland, its director, is retired from the music faculty of Juniata College. The program will include such numbers as "The Lord's Prayer," "Crossing the Bar" "The

RALLY DAY TO BE OBSERVED

The annual rally day program will be held by St. James Lutheran Sunday School Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock.

The Senior and Intermediate Departments will join the Adult Department for the program. Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, retired president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, will speak. Music will include vocal solos by Miss Sally Smith and Ronald Ditzler, numbers by the Sunday School orchestra under the direction of Edwin Lonsanecker. The Sunday School room will be decorated with flowers furnished by the Mothers' Class.

Mrs. Robert Johnson, Gettysburg R. D., will be the speaker in the Primary Department. Mrs. Johnson, who is blind, will be accompanied by her seeing-eye dog. Other departments will have special programs in observance of the day.

ADAMS COUNTY'S OLDEST 4-H CLUB SEEKS MEMBERS

Adams County's oldest 4-H club is seeking more members for its 31st year which begins on November 15. The Baby Beef club has openings for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 20 years. Fred H. Attinger, associate county farm agent, announced.

Those who wish to join may attend a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Glenn and Martha Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4, or may notify the county agent's office in the county house.

The only requirements are that the members be within the ages for 4-H work and secure a steer, between 300 and 500 pounds, before November 15, the first meeting of the new year for the club.

Feek Forty Members
Attinger said a steer may be secured locally, or by notifying him. Attinger leaves tonight for Colorado to select a number of suitable animals and will return Wednesday. The Colorado steers are Herefords. Most of the members this year are planning to fatten Herefords, although a number plan to raise Angus steers. Attinger said last year 24 of the fattened were Herefords. Two years ago the majority was Angus.

The club had 31 members during the year which closes in November. Eight of those members will "graduate" and 11 new members have already signed for the new club in addition to those who are continuing in the work for another year.

Attinger said he hopes to have about 40 members in the club when it starts its 1956 steer fattening program. Among those who have signed so far as new members are Susan Todd, Littlestown R. 2; Miriam Shank, Hanover R. 4; Rosalie Smeeringer, Gettysburg R. 4; Charles and Shirley Sterner, Gettysburg R. 3; David Sibert, New Oxford R. 2; Daniel Vindling Jr., Gettysburg R. D.; and Billy Reaver, Gardners R. D.

NEW DRUGGIST AT LOCAL STORE

Paul B. MacDonald, registered pharmacist, has joined the staff of Peoples Drug Store, York St.

A graduate of Temple University School of Pharmacy, Philadelphia, MacDonald is a veteran of four years service with the USAF. Upon release from active duty with the Air Force he was assistant supervisor of the Hospital Pharmacy, Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y., the largest hospital under the direction of the Department of the Air Force.

Married to the former Jane E. Carey, R.N., of Mosaic, Pa., the couple has three children: Wayne, aged two, and twin daughters, Lisa Jeanne and Lynn Ruth, aged seven months.

He moved to Gettysburg, September 29, from Lodi, New York.

MacDonald is a member of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association, the American Pharmaceutical Association, Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity and Mosaic Lodge 664, P & A M.

Peoples Drug Store will celebrate its 64th anniversary beginning Monday.

The MacDonalds formerly resided at Old Forge. They now reside at 305 Buford Ave.

Airman third class James D. Kroushore's new address is AF 13337661, Box L, 9-681, 3436 Squadron, Lowry AFB, Denver, Colo.

C. T. ZIEGLER EXPIRES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Charles T. Ziegler, 76, well-known retired business man and Spanish-American War Veteran, died Friday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock at his home, 127 Springs Ave., following an illness of a year. He was bedfast four and one-half months.

He was born in Gettysburg, a son of the late William T. and Rebecca (Herman) Ziegler, and resided most of his life here. He was proprietor of the Blue Parrot tea room for about 20 years, retiring about 10 years ago.

The deceased received his early education in Gettysburg public schools and graduated from the Gettysburg Academy. He was a member of the Class of 1901 at Gettysburg College.

He was a member of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, Gettysburg Elks and Eagles, Good Samaritan Lodge 336 of the Masons, Royal Arch Chapter 226, Gettysburg Commandery 72, Mohammed Shrine of Peoria, Ill., and Sgt. William M. Steffy Camp 126 of which he was a past commander.

Funeral On Monday
During the Spanish-American War he served as a second lieutenant in Co. M, 5th Infantry Regiment, and was the youngest commissioned officer in his regiment. He enlisted in July, 1898, and was discharged November 7, 1898.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Treva Welkert, with whom he observed his 28th wedding anniversary July 1; three children, Mrs. Robert K. Helmuth, Secane, Pa.; William T. 3rd, Gettysburg, and C. Robert, at home; two grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. John D. Lippy, Gettysburg.

Funeral services Monday at 2 p.m. at the Bender Funeral Home conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

The family has requested that friends do not call at the funeral home prior to the services.

CHEST DRIVE UP TO $10,858

Gettysburg's Community Chest drive had approximately 55 per cent of its quota today. Chairman John C. "Buck" Stahle reported income of $10,858.85, or $8,841.15 less than the goal of $19,700.

Reports Friday night to the Chest office in the Plaza building indicated that Gettysburg's residential solicitation is "about cleaned up."

Efforts to secure a larger number of contributions from the rural areas adjacent to Gettysburg started Friday night when a crew under the direction of Assistant Chairman LeRoy H. Smith called approximately 300 homes within a mile or two of the town. Smith said he was "well pleased" with the response. A large number he said promised to send contributions to the Community Chest headquarters.

Additional calls to rural area residents will be made Monday evening.

The $19,700 goal is scheduled to provide funds for the Recreation Association, Library, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, YWCA and Civic Nurse.

75 Mile Winds And 5 Inches Of Rain Swish Pennsylvania

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More rain was predicted for waterlogged Pennsylvania today on the anniversary of Hurricane Hazel's visit which cut a swath of destruction and death across the state exactly one year ago today.

Officially, the forecast was for clearing in the morning. But in the afternoon, showers were forecast. And the bureau said they might be locally severe in some spots.

Yesterday's storm—described as an "extra tropical cyclone," a storm with some of the attributes of a hurricane—blew up suddenly Thursday and moved across the state Friday, bringing winds close to hurricane force (75 mph) in some areas and rain unofficially measuring up to five inches.

All Highways Open
Hardest hit was the central Pennsylvania area. The Harrisburg Weather Bureau reported general local flooding along the Chemung, Juniata, West Branch of the Susquehanna and North Branch of the Susquehanna Rivers. Severe local flooding was reported in the vicinity of Williamsport, Canton, Danville, Muncy and Milheim.

But by late last night, the wa-

Four persons were fatally injured at 12:05 o'clock this morning, when their car crashed into a concrete bridge wall about 1/2 miles east of here on the Bonneauville Rd.

Three of the occupants were killed instantly. One, Eva Wagaman, approximately 40, Gettysburg R. 5, died at 4 this morning at the Warner Hospital.

Killed in the crash were her son, Henry Ervin Wagaman, 14, Gettysburg R. 5; her nephew, Charles E. Wagaman Jr., 21, Fairfield R. 2, and Lawrence F. Klosterman Jr., 21, Gettysburg R. 2.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, who with state police conducted the investigation into the fatal crash, said all suffered numerous fractures, bruises, and cuts. Charles Wagaman's left leg was severed just below the knee.

The four had been at the home of Eva Wagaman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 5, about two miles from the scene of the crash. The elder Wagamans, parents and grand parents of three of the four killed, said the four had been at the home. They were singing they said and Klosterman and the Wagaman youth had been playing guitars during most of the night.

Motorist Sees Wreck
About midnight, five minutes before the estimated time of the crash, the four told the elder Mr. and Mrs. Wagaman that they planned to "run into town." Mr. and Mrs. Wagaman, when informed of the deaths, said they believed the group was planning to go to Gettysburg when they left the Wagaman home.

Apparently they turned toward Bonneauville instead when they reached the Gettysburg-Bonneauville Rd. off the township road leading to the Wagaman home.

A passing motorist found the wreck and called state police, saying he believed someone had been killed in the crash.

Police and Dr. Crist found the car literally wrapped around the west side of the south bridge wall. The dashboard was flat against one end of the wall. Part of the car was on the bridge and the rest was dangling toward Chicken Creek, on the south side of the bridge wall. The car had been headed east when it crashed.

Roof Torn Off
The roof of the car had been torn loose and hurled 25 feet. Henry Wagaman was found crumpled in the roof of the car. His mother was on the grass, near the road, about 25 feet east of the car.

Charles E. Wagaman Jr. was lying on the east bank of the stream, about 15 feet from the wreckage. Klosterman's right leg was pinned under the dashboard, and at first it was thought that it had been severed. The car had to be pulled from the bridge and packed up to free Klosterman.

Pieces Widely Scattered
The motor was hurled 24 feet east of the car. The car's heater was found 120 feet east of the vehicle. Other parts of the car were scattered for a distance of 106 feet from the vehicle.

The Gettysburg ambulance and Gettysburg Fire Department Rescue squad were called by police.

Firemen On Duty
Miss Wagaman was removed to the Warner Hospital in the ambulance while the Rescue Squad set up portable lights and flares. The Bonneauville fire department, also called, stood by with a pumper in case of fire and aided in the traffic duties. Police and Dr. Crist expressed their appreciation to both fire departments.

Police estimated damage to the auto at $2,800. A new Ford, it had been driven about 2,000 miles before the crash. It was owned by Klosterman's father, L. Frederick Klosterman, Gettysburg R. 2.

67 RECEIVE TAX RELIEF

Owners of 67 properties received assessment relief by appealing to the county commissioners, it was announced today.

A tally of the results of the appeals made during September shows that 157 persons appeared before the commissioners for hearings in which 167 properties were involved. More than 4,000 changes in assessments were made this year, but only 157 owners appeared for hearings.

All of the hearings were heard in September, but final decision was not made on 30 until the commissioners had viewed the properties.

In 98 appeals the commissioners made no change, deciding that the properties were accurately valued by the assessors.

In 67 cases the assessment figure were revised downward, by sums ranging from $25 to $700. A majority of the revisions were by sums of $25 to $50, only a few ran over $200, and only one was listed in which the value was dropped by $700.

In two of the cases the values were revised upward, one of them by $750.

GOP DIFFERS ON SELECTION OF NOMINEE

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Already a division of opinion has developed among Republican strategists over the best method of choosing a presidential nominee in the event President Eisenhower doesn't run in 1956.

Some GOP leaders have been discussing privately the possibility of trying to persuade the President—in case he intends to step aside—to indicate whom he would support for the nomination.

The argument here is that unless Eisenhower makes such a move, the Republican party will be ripped apart by a bitter pre-convention fight between candidates seeking the nomination. They foresee the likelihood of another party-splitting scrap like the one in 1952 between

Dean Martins Are Separated

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Dean Martins have announced that they are separated.

Mrs. Martin, the former Jeanne Bueherts of Miami, Fla., and one-time Orange Bowl queen, has taken their children, Dino, 4, and Ricci, 1, to Palm Springs.

She is the second wife of the 38-year-old crooner, comedy partner of Jerry Lewis. Martin said he and his wife plan a legal separation but do not contemplate divorce.

"It is our hope that we eventually will find the answer because of the children," Mrs. Martin said. She added that "there is no other man or woman involved. Dean and I simply appear to be incompatible."

The Martins were married Sept. 1, 1949.

PANGBORN HALL IS DEDICATED AT MT. ST. MARY'S

With more than a thousand alumni in attendance the Most Reverend Francis P. Keough, archbishop of Baltimore, solemnly dedicated the chapel and residence quarters of Pangborn Hall, new $400,000 senior dormitory building at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The ceremonies began with a procession of the Archbishop and distinguished guests and clergy from Bradley Hall to Pangborn Hall. Assisted by the Rev. Carl J. Fives, treasurer of the college, and the Rev. George L. Hopkins, chancellor of the Baltimore Archdiocese, Archbishop Keough then dedicated the chapel and rooms of Pangborn Hall. Responses were sung by the Mount St. Mary's Seminary choir under the direction of Rev. David W. Shaum.

Following an invocation by Archbishop Keough, the Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, secretary of the college, introduced Thomas W. Pangborn, Hagerstown industrialist, who with his brother, John, donated the residence to Mount St. Mary's through the Pangborn Foundation. In a short address Mr. Pangborn stressed his deep affection for Mount St. Mary's and emphasized the importance of a sound, moral education.

Msgr. Sheridan Speaks
Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of Mount St. Mary's, thanked the Pangborn brothers in behalf of the college for their generous gift. He expressed his gratitude also to Governor McKeldin and Archbishop Keough, Governor McKeldin and Archbishop Keough spoke briefly lauding the spirit of the Pangborns which prompted gifts to institutions of higher education and the long, distinguished history of Mount St. Mary's, the nation's second oldest Catholic college.

Following the dedication luncheon was served to 250 distinguished guests in Bradley Hall. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Pangborn, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Pangborn, Governor and Mrs. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland; the most Rev. Bryan J. McEnegart, rector of the Catholic University of America; Rt. Rev. Msgr. William J. McDonald, vice rector of Catholic University; Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., president of Georgetown U.; Rt. Rev. Msgr. Louis C. Vaeth, director of the Society of the Propagation of the Faith for the archdiocese of Baltimore; Rev. James A. Martin, S.J., director of the Jesuit Retreat League, Washington, D. C.; Very Rev. Leo J. McCormick, superintendent of education for the Baltimore archdiocese; Rt. Rev. Msgr. James H. Casey, president of the Brooklyn Tablet; Rev. Francis A. McGinley, director of the Friends of the Carthusians in America; Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Schmidt, director of the propagation of the faith for the diocese of Harrisburg; and Very Rev. Stephen McNamee, S.J., representative of the Maryland Province, of the Society of Jesus.

Distinguished laymen in attendance included William Preston Lane Jr., former governor of Maryland; James P. McGraney, former attorney general of the United States; D. Kenneth McLaughlin, judge of the fourth judicial circuit of Maryland; Ellsworth R. Routledge, president, Nicodemus National Bank, Hagerstown; Thomas B. Butler, president, Mercantile Safe Deposit and Trust Company, Baltimore; William M. Brish, superintendent of schools, Washington County; and Mayor and Mrs. John A. Derr, Frederick, Md.

Wires of congratulations to both the Pangborns and Monsignor Sheridan from the presidents of all the MSM alumni chapters were read at the dinner.

The new residence hall houses 120 students in sixty rooms. The three-story building is constructed of native mountain stone and trimmed in limestone. The building also contains three clerical suites and recreation and lounge facilities. The chapel accommodates 84 students.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

The Pointer is another one of the many breeds of dogs about which the experts say, "His origin is obscure." Spain, Belgium, France or elsewhere in Continental Europe may have been the land of his beginning, nevertheless the handsome, energetic, efficient fellow we know is as American as apple pie.

His early development as a game bird dog doubtlessly must be credited to the English Huntsmen, but our Pointer has been rather thoroughly "overhauled" to satisfy the requirements of the American sportsman and to cope with our varied climate and the vastness of this country's hunting areas.

If you will pardon a pun, it would be a "pointless" matter indeed to attempt to enjoy hunting game birds without a good gun dog. The Pointer happily rounds out the perfect trio of hunter, gun and unfailing bird-finder. He seems dedicated to his work... seems imbued with the idea that his sole mission in life is to locate pheasant, quail, partridge, grouse—almost any bird—and very likely that is the case.

The Pointer is truly in his seventh dog heaven as he scurries back and forth across endless fields, his talented nostrils picking up the scent of the quarry with radar efficiency. Then, with every muscle and sinew taut as iron bands, he stands like a statue unerringly pointing the game for his master to bag.

The sportsman who has small children finds the Pointer an ideal choice for this purpose. The canine becomes important to each member of the family. To his master because of his hunting prowess; to the children, because of his gentle, amiable nature; and to the lady of the house, because the Pointer's short, sleek hair and his instinctive habit of attending to his own grooming make him welcome in the home at all times. (He may come out of a swamp coated with mud, but he'll roll in the grass and shake himself until he is clean "as a hound's tooth.")

While the Pointer is loyal and obedient to his owner he cannot be considered a one-man dog by any means. Neither does he make friends quickly; yet, since he is so eager to hunt, he will work willingly and effectively for more than one handler, a quality that must have much to do with his popularity in field trials. Pointers weigh from 50 to 60 pounds and are from 24 to 27 inches in height.

Their short, flat coats usually are white with black, liver, lemon or orange markings and sometimes they are completely black. They can keep going at full tilt in heat that stops their long-haired brother canines, but are at somewhat of a disadvantage in brushy terrain. Here is a fine friend and hunting companion. Mr. Sportsman, please... give him an acre or two to romp in. A Pointer deserves this consideration!

GAS TANK FIRE INJURES FIVE AT UNITED FUEL

HUBBALL, W. Va. (AP)—A fire slowly burned itself out early today in an explosion-ripped cracking plant of the United Fuel Gas Co.

Five men were burned, one seriously, when a series of blasts touched off the flames yesterday. But the disaster was almost as notable for what didn't happen as for what did.

Ten thousand gallons of highly-explosive natural gas in three nearby tanks did not explode. Neither did 70,000 gallons of gas stored in tanks nearly a block from the fire.

Eight railroad tank cars on a spur line less than 100 yards from the explosion were moved before they could ignite. And none of the 50 children attending classes in a two-room school about 300 yards from the burning plant was hurt. The explosions started when vapor and liquid escaping from a natural gas tank were ignited, apparently by sparks from a gasoline engine.

Thirty-five members attended the October meeting and masquerade party of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Arendtsville Fire Co. held Thursday evening in the social room of the Arendtsville Bank. Autumn leaves, paper streamers, balloons, and ghost-like faces were used as decorations. Games, music, dancing, and bobbing for apples formed the entertainment. Ella Myers, Ruth Taylor, Ann Hartzell and Madeline Stover won prizes for various costume disguises. A business meeting was served. Hostesses for the November meeting will be Alice Orner, chairman, Goldie Punt, Betty Bohrer, Mary Ellen Hartman, Rhoda Heller, Pearl Hayes, Charlotte Thomas and Ruth Slaybaugh.

Jay McLaughlin, Arendtsville, and John Leeti, Biglerville R. 1, attended the discussion forum of the York Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, at Allenberry, Friday.

The Biglerville High School class of 1936 held its first reunion in 19 years last Saturday evening at Bob's Diner, Aspers. Fourteen of the 30 graduates were in attendance. Lester D. Guise, president of the class, was the toastmaster. After dinner he called upon each member of the class to introduce his or her guest. Class members described what they had been doing since graduation. It was announced that Wayne Group died in 1949.

There were 29 persons at the dinner. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hutchison were guests. Mrs. Hutchison is the former Miss Aberdeen Phillips, who taught commercial subjects in the high school during 1934-35 and 1935-36 periods.

Mr. Guise, who lives at Camp Hill, appointed the following committee to arrange similar reunion in 1956: Dorothy Bream Wright, Marie Walker Blough, Richard G.

E. Cline, Donald E. Lady and Ernest D. Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wright Jr., Bendersville, and Miss Nancy Arnold, Long-View R. 3, are attending the Bucknell-Temple University football game in Lewisburg today.

DEATHS

Charles S. Shaffer

Charles S. Shaffer, 21, of Dillsburg R. 3, died at 12:30 a.m. Friday at Carlisle Hospital of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Sunday.

Dr. Edward A. Haegele, Cumberland County coroner, attributed death to shock and multiple injuries. He said the case will be turned to York County Coroner Lester J. Sell. Dr. Haegele said Shaffer's car and an auto driven by Richard Himes, 22, Dillsburg R. 1, collided a mile north of Dillsburg on the Route 15 by-pass at Nester's service station at 4 a.m. Sunday. Harrisburg state police are investigating.

Shaffer was graduated from Mechanicburg High School in 1952 and was employed by Hershey Creamery Company, Harrisburg. He was a member of Fley's Sunday School, near Dillsburg.

Also surviving are a sister, Nancy A. Shaffer, at home; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cottenham, Dillsburg R. 3, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Jessie E. Shaffer, Richmond, Va. Rev. James R. Nace, Rossville Lutheran charge pastor, will officiate at the funeral Monday at 2 p.m. at Cocklin Funeral Home, Dillsburg. Burial in Fley's Church Cemetery.

Miss Beulah Myers Karna

Miss Beulah Myers Karna, 68, died suddenly Friday at noon at her home in Dillsburg. Chronic myocarditis caused death, according to York County Coroner Lester J. Sell.

Miss Karna was a member of Dillsburg Methodist Church and Sunday School, the church's WSCS and Dillsburg Woman's Club.

Surviving are four brothers, Bennett H. and Earl Karna, both of Dillsburg; J. Frank Karna, of Leomoyne, and M. Luther Karna, of Mechanicsburg R. 4, and a sister, Mrs. Maxine Rosenberg, Dillsburg.

Rev. K. B. Metzger, her pastor, will officiate at the funeral Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Cocklin Funeral Home. Burial in Dillsburg Cemetery.

Mrs. Carrie B. Peters

Mrs. Carrie B. Peters, 80, York R. 8, widow of Willie R. Peters, died this morning at 5:55 o'clock at the York Hospital.

She was a native of Adams County, a daughter of the late George and Lucretia (Geyer) Freed. The deceased was a member of the Bendersville Lutheran Church.

Surviving are a son, Cameron Peters, Gardners R. 2; four daughters, Mrs. Paul A. Baker, York R. 8; Mrs. J. Elmer Warner, Fawn Grove; Mrs. Earl Crum, Biglerville, and Mrs. Ralph Jessop, York R. 8; six grandchildren; one great-grandchild, and one sister, Mrs. Dennis Asper, York R. 1.

Funeral services Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Edward Baumeister Funeral Home, S. Queen and Jackson Sts., York, conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble. Interment in the Bendersville Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Cabinet Asks Court To Review Appeal

OTTAWA (AP)—The Canadian Cabinet, in an unprecedented action, has asked the Supreme Court to reconsider Wilbert Coffin's appeal from a murder conviction in the slaying of a young Pennsylvania bear hunter.

Coffin, a 34-year-old prospector, was convicted of the killing of Robert Lindsey, 17, of Haldsburg, Pa., in the Gaspe Peninsula bush in July, 1953. The bear-mauled remains of young Lindsey; his father, Eugene Lindsey, 47, and a friend, Albert Claar, 20, were found in the Gaspe wilderness. Coffin insists he is innocent.

Coffin was to hang next Thursday at Bordeaux Jail in Montreal.

Woman Is Crammed In Refrigerator

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The body of a restaurant hostess, identified as Mary H. Shikus, about 40, was found yesterday crammed into a kitchen refrigerator in new North Philadelphia home.

Two men, including a real estate appraiser, discovered the woman sitting with knees drawn up under her chin. She was fully clothed. The refrigerator was empty of all fittings and shelves.

Police said she had ordered the two-story house sold and then removed most of her furniture and other belongings. Neighbors told police the furniture was sent to her mother's home in Minersville, Pa. Cause of death was not immediately determined.

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 79, in bed with bronchial pneumonia, continued to make progress, it was officially announced today. His two doctors reported his temperature was only slightly above normal, and that there was a reduction of all symptoms of illness. He would have to remain in bed for some time, they added.

Donald Lemmon, chairman, Stewart N. Long, Bevon F. Hanlon, Robert W. Gouker and Clyde H. Rohrbaugh; advertising, Elmer W. M. Duttera, chairman, Albert J. Bair, Chester S. Bvies, Paul E. Renner, Clair J. Redding, John N. Sell, Ralph R. Ruggles Jr. and William Plaff; tickets, Earl L. Siles, chairman, Vernon J. Study, Gilbert A. Royston, Joseph P. Long, George C. DeHoff and Herman G. Kalel.

Commander Donald L. Beford presided. Adjutant Paul E. Altoff and Robert W. Gouker reported. Bernard Clouser was enrolled as a new member.

Clair J. Redding reported on plans for the turkey drawing to be held in November. Finance Officer Albert J. Bair reported. Refreshments will be served after each meeting by the house committee, J. Donald Lemmon, chairman, in charge.

The post decided to conduct a broom sale. The following committee will be in charge: Clyde Rohrbaugh, Albert Bair, Claude Snyder and Carroll E. Arter. The post will meet again October 27.

The Mason and Dixon Memorial VFW Post recently completed plans for the annual Halloween dance Friday, October 28, 9 p.m. to 1, at Bankert's Music will be furnished by Dale Starry's orchestra. The arrangement committee includes: Robert L. Snyder, Charles Bridinger and Earl J. Weaver.

Commander Earl Weaver, who presided, announced that the post will pay its obligation to the new VFW memorial erected in Washington, D. C. A donation of $5 was voted to the Scotland School Christmas party. It was decided to purchase wreaths to be placed at the local veterans' memorial; the first to be placed on Armistice Day. The post decided to buy shirts for members of the unit's dart team, which is now competing in the league from this area. The post will meet again on October 25.

JURY DECIDES IN ONE MINUTE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—After deliberating one minute, a grand jury indicted Rosale and Milton Schwartz yesterday on charges of performing the abortion that killed chaste heiress Doris Jean Silver Ostreicher.

The quick decision came after the 22 jurors spent almost all day hearing 13 witnesses in the case. The Schwartzes were charged with abortion, abortion causing death and conspiracy. They were charged separately with perjury.

Most of those who testified had appeared previously as witnesses, either at the inquest into Mrs. Ostreicher's death, or at a hearing for Mrs. Gertrude Silver, mother of the dead 22-year-old socialite beauty.

The mother, who has been charged with being an accessory to her daughter's abortion death, is in the Philadelphia Psychiatric Hospital suffering from bereavement shock. Both her personal physician and community doctors who have examined her say she is too ill to testify.

"GIVE THANKS"

Don't fret when skies are overcast . . . Instead give thanks to God . . . for granting you the strength you need . . . to ever onward plod . . . when rain begins to tumble down . . . to fill your heart with woe . . . give thanks because you have the faith . . . to find the sun's warm glow . . . despair not if your luck is bad . . . give thanks for things you've won . . . you must know joy and sorrow too . . . when all is said and done . . . be grateful for your blessings . . . however small they seem . . . by doing so I'm sure you'll float . . . upon a peaceful stream . . . for God is good to those who find . . . contentment in the ranks . . . He'll give you soul-deep happiness . . . if only you give thanks.

Call Two Morticians
Allison's Funeral Home and Peters' Funeral Home were called. Swope's Atlantic was notified, to tow truck.

Funeral services for Miss Wagaman and her son are being arranged by Peters' Funeral Home. Services for Klosterman and Charles E. Wagaman are being arranged by Allison's Funeral Home.

Klosterman, a former member of the Merchant Marine, was a son of Lawrence Frederick and Evelyn (McAller) Klosterman, Gettysburg R. 2. Surviving in addition to his parents are a sister, Mrs. Evelyn McCram, Philadelphia, and two brothers, James and John, at home. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Fairfield.

Wagaman Survivors
Charles E. Wagaman Jr. was a son of Charles E. and Rose E. (Confer) Wagaman, Fairfield R. 2, and native of Huntingdon, Pa. He was employed by the C. H. Musselman Co., Biglerville.

Surviving in addition to his parents are two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Wetzel, Thurmont, and Mrs. Martha Shorb, Emmitsburg R. 2, and two brothers, Walter and Robert, both at home. Also surviving are Wagaman's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 5, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Confer, State College.

Double funeral services for Miss Wagaman and her son will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Peter's Funeral Home. There will be no viewing and the services will be private. Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Miss Wagaman is survived by her parents, Charles L. and Martha (Naugle) Wagaman, and seven brothers and sisters, James Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 5, Charles Wagaman, Fairfield R. 2; Walter Wagaman, Littlestown R. 1; Mrs. Ella Musser, Mt. Alto; Mrs. Jeannie Green, Rouseville; Mrs. Sadie Crist, Huntingdon, and Mrs. Goldie Clark, Gettysburg. Her son, Henry Ervin Wagaman, was a student at Gettysburg High School.

Glenn Zepp Will Address 4-H Dinner

Glenn Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4, one of the four Pennsylvania delegates to the National 4-H camp this summer, will be a speaker November 1 at the annual 4-H banquet to be held by the 4-H County Council at Two Taverns parish hall at 6:30 p.m. Approximately 200 are expected for the annual event out of the 600 members of the 16 home economics and 11 agriculture 4-H Clubs in the county. Fred H. Attinger, associate county agent, John D. Naugle, assistant county agent, and Miss Florence H. Finger, extension home economist, joined in urging parents to attend the dinner. Tickets are available from the 4-H local leaders and reservations must be made by October 26.

Driver Fined $50 For Disorderliness

Elmer W. Kump, 44, Hanover, was fined $50 and $9 costs, on a charge of disorderly conduct at a hearing Friday afternoon before Justice of the Peace George A. Lippy. Hanover. He was arrested by Hanover police after his car collided with another vehicle at an intersection about 3 p.m.

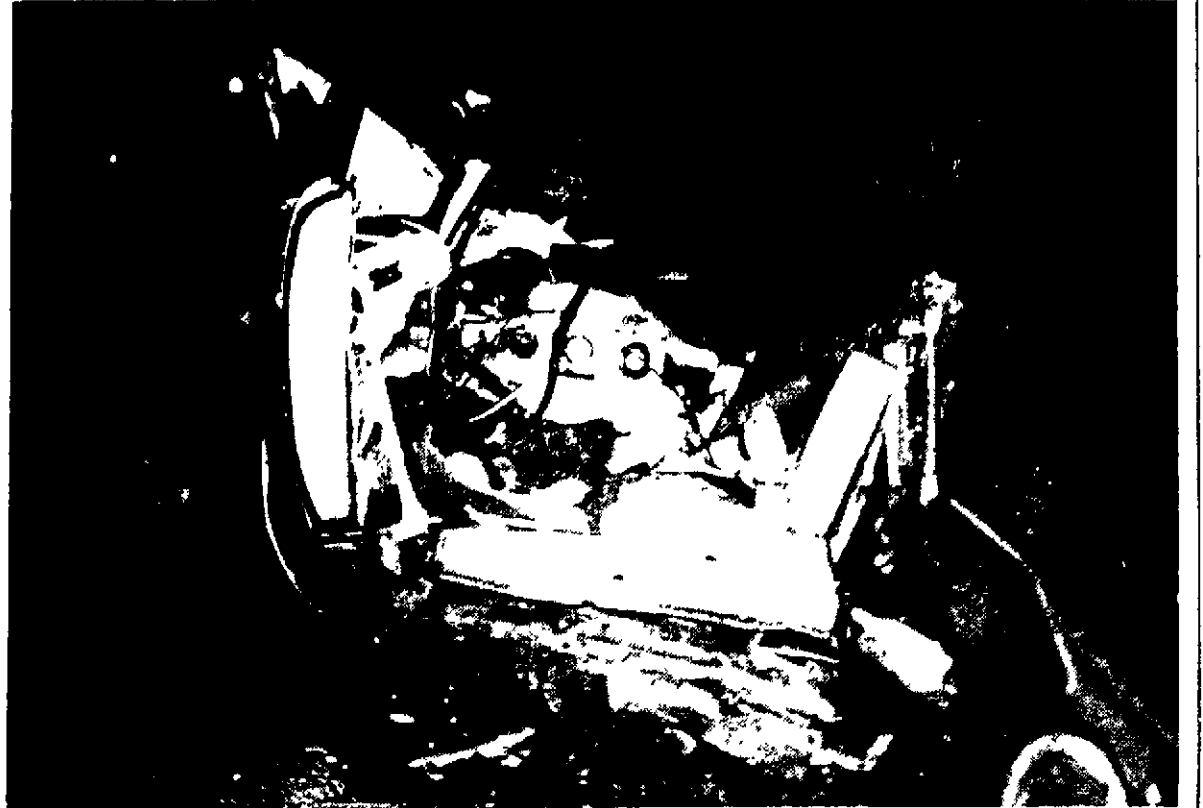

Police said the Kump auto collided with a vehicle operated by Lavere M. Rebert, 54, of New Oxford R. 2. No one was injured. Another charge, an exception to the right of way, was filed by police against Kump before Squire Lippy. Damage to Rebert's car was estimated at $125 and to Kump's vehicle at $120.

Soldier Hero Of First World War Will Receive Hero's Rites

WASHINGTON (AP)—Raised from an obscure rural graveyard, the body of Maj. Samuel Woodfill arrives today for reinterment befitting a man once called America's "outstanding soldier" of World War I.

He will be interred Monday in Arlington National Cemetery amid military ceremony contrasting with the simple rites of his first burial near Madison, Ind., four years ago.

Recognition came to Woodfill as tardily in life as it did in death. Gen. John J. Pershing, choosing pallbearers for the unknown soldier in 1921, came across Wood-fill's name and exclaimed: "Why, I've already selected that man as the outstanding soldier of the AEF." Pershing was commander of the American Expeditionary Forces in France in 1917-1918.

Only then did the American public—bedazzled by the exploits of such as Sgt. Alvin York and Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker—wake up to the fact that Woodfill had received the Medal of Honor for single-handedly wiping out a series of German machinegun nests near Cunel, France, Oct. 12, 1918.

In August 1951, Woodfill's neighbors found him dead in his home of a heart attack. He was 63.

Last spring editors Lloyd Neal and Phil Cole of the Madison Courier came upon Woodfill's grave, marked only by a small metal plate. They wrote a story which touched off a drive for funds to buy a suitable gravestone.

Later, Pentagon officials agreed that Woodfill should lie in Arlington.

OREGON FAMILY ADOPTS KOREAN BOYS AND GIRLS

CRESWELL, Ore. (AP)—There was a "lot of bawling" at the Harry Holt farm home here last night when they tried to tuck eight new members of the family into their cribs.

The eight little oriental children, ranging in age from eight months to three years, were tired and irritable after the biggest day in their lives.

They arrived in Portland by airplane from Korea yesterday and then were brought by automobile to this little western Oregon town of 700.

House Intermolt
Barbara, 16, one of the Holts' six other children, said things were pretty upset around the house last night.

"We would get them all quieted down and then one would start crying. That would set off the others—and we had to start all over again. There was a lot of bawling," she said.

How was the youngest of her new brothers and sisters? "Well," Barbara said wearily, "Little Betty Rhee still wants to be held."

Barbara added that the photographers and newsmen who crowded into the big Holt home "hadn't been much help."

But Barbara, like the rest of the prosperous farm family, was enjoying the excitement.

Mrs. Holt, as expected, was too busy to talk to reporters. She said earlier in the day before she met the children at the airport that she was the "most expectant mother in the world."

Father Exhausted
And Holt, who with the help of nurse Kathleen Cowan brought the children from Korea, was exhausted, too. "Oh, I'm tired, but awfully happy," he said when his wife met him at the Portland airport.

He hadn't seen his family since spring when he left for Korea to adopt the eight children—four boys and four girls—who had been abandoned by their Korean mothers and American servicemen fathers.

While he was gone Congress passed a special law to permit the Holts to bring the children to this country and adopt them.

SEMINARY GRAD PASSES AWAY

The Rev. Samuel J. Miller, 84, died Wednesday evening at his home in Edgemont, Md.

The Rev. Mr. Miller graduated from Gettysburg College in 1897 and from the Lutheran Theological Seminary in 1900.

Among his pastorates during his 52 years in the ministry were charges at Sparrows Point, Md., and in Baltimore.

He was born at Edgemont, a son of the late Levi and Sarah (Reynolds) Miller.

Surviving are a brother, Chancery C. Edgemont, and a number of nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Greensburg, Md., in charge of the Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, Rev. James Horn and Rev. Paul Smith. Interment in Wetly's Cemetery.

Waives Hearing On Charge Of Robbery

Michael Joseph Cavanaugh, 45, York, waived hearing for robbery Thursday night before Alderman Thomas G. Little, York, and told the alderman he would plead guilty in court on Monday.

The defendant was returned to the York County jail to await the court appearance on the charge that he beat and robbed Kenneth Diller, 36, Abbotstown, a day earlier in the vicinity of York New Salem.

Police said Diller picked up Cavanaugh walking along the highway east of Abbotstown, bleeding from an eye wound suffered in a one-car accident near Paradise Rectory. Cavanaugh is accused of striking Diller, taking his wallet, stripping off his trousers and stealing the car, which was found abandoned in West York. Pfc. Eugene Mihalk, of York Pennsylvania state police station, is the prosecutor.

Princess And Townsend On Romantic Weekend Sojourn

By MILTON MARMOR

BINFIELD, England (AP)—Princess Margaret today is all set—Princess Margaret is going to marry RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, whether the news is official or not.

The Princess was on a romantic weekend date with Townsend at a stately English country place here deep in the heart of Windsor Forest after making a dramatic appeal for privacy.

The rendezvous set the seal on the nation's mounting conviction that the only thing left to be fixed for the wedding is the date.

The royal family's press secretary issued from Clarence House, the London residence of the Princess and Queen Mother Elizabeth, Margaret's plea for privacy. It was the first official statement relating to the Princess' recent personal life. It said:

"In view of the varied reports which have been published, the press secretary of the Queen is authorized to say that no announcement concerning Princess Margaret's personal future is at present contemplated."

"The Princess Margaret has asked the press secretary to express the hope that the press and public will extend to her royal highness their customary courtesy and cooperation in respecting her privacy."

Two of London's big morning newspapers interpreted this statement as a conclusive sign the 25-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II plans to marry Townsend, 40-year-old divorced father of two children and a fighter pilot hero of the battle of Britain. Townsend, now British air attaché in Brussels, is on home leave.

Even as Britons scanned their morning papers eagerly for the latest details of the royal love story, the Princess and Townsend breakfasted quietly here in an old country house 10 miles from Windsor Castle and about 25 miles west of London.

They met as darkness fell last night at Allensby Hall, a stately red brick mansion of Margaret's cousin, Mrs. John Lyet Wills.

The couple drove separately from London. For most Britons, it was a secret meeting.

Philly Tax Officials Testify In Tax Probe

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Top officials of the Philadelphia office of the Internal Revenue Service will be called next week before a federal grand jury investigating the late Lemuel B. Schofield's failure to file federal income tax returns for six years prior to his death, U. S. Atty. W. Wilson White said yesterday.

White declined to identify the officials, who he said would be among six witnesses called when the grand jury investigation begins Thursday. He said the investigation would probably take a month.

He added that criminal prosecution would be taken if the investigation proved such prosecution was warranted.

Schofield, prominent Philadelphia criminal lawyer, died July 3 on his farm at nearby Phoenixville, Pa. He was 62. It was reported he owed the government nearly a million dollars in taxes.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Earl M. Honaman, York, today is the first suffragan bishop of the Harrisburg Episcopal Diocese.

Dr. Honaman was elected to the office yesterday at the close of the two-day diocesan convention at St. Stephen's Cathedral.

He will be assistant to the Rt. Rev. J. Thomas Heistand, bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese. He was elected on the eighth ballot.

Dr. Honaman is rector of St. John's Church in York.

JURY DECIDES IN ONE MINUTE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—After deliberating one minute, a grand jury indicted Rosalie and Milton Schwartz yesterday on charges of performing the abortion that killed chainstore heiress Doris Jean Silver Osterreicher.

The quick decision came after the 22 jurors spent almost all day hearing 19 witnesses in the case. The Schwartzes were charged with abortion, abortion causing death and conspiracy. They were charged separately with perjury.

Most of those who testified had appeared previously as witnesses, either at the inquest into Mrs. Osterreicher's death, or at a hearing for Mrs. Gertrude Silver, mother of the dead 22-year-old socialite beauty.

The mother, who has been charged with being an accessory to her daughter's abortion death, is in the Philadelphia Psychiatric Hospital suffering from bereavement shock. Both her personal physician and Commonwealth doctors who have examined her say she is too ill to testify.

"GIVE THANKS"

Don't fret when skies are overcast . . . Instead give thanks to God . . . for granting you the strength you need . . . to ever onward plod . . . when rain begins to tumble down . . . to fill your heart with woe . . . give thanks because you have the faith . . . to find the sun's warm glow . . . despair not if your luck is bad . . . give thanks for things you've won . . . you must know joy and sorrow too . . . when all is said and done . . . be grateful for your blessings . . . however small they seem . . . by doing so I'm sure you'll float . . . upon a peaceful stream . . . for God is good to those who find . . . contentment in the ranks . . . He'll give you soul-deep happiness . . . if only you give thanks.

Call Two Morticians
Allison's Funeral Home and Peters' Funeral Home were called. Swope's Atlantic was notified, to tow truck.

Funeral services for Miss Wagaman and her son are being arranged by Peters' Funeral Home. Services for Klosterman and Charles E. Wagaman are being arranged by Allison's Funeral Home. Klosterman, a former member of the Merchant Marine, was a son of Lawrence Frederick and Evelyn (McAller) Klosterman, Gettysburg R. 2. Surviving in addition to his parents are a sister, Mrs. Evelyn McCrain, Philadelphia, and two brothers, James and John, at home. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Fairfield.

Wagaman survivors
Charles E. Wagaman Jr. was a son of Charles E. and Rose E. (Confer) Wagaman, Fairfield R. 2, and native of Huntingdon, Pa. He was employed by the C. H. Musselman Co., Biglerville.

Surviving in addition to his parents are two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Wetzel, Thurmont, and Mrs. Martha Shorb, Emmitsburg R. 2, and two brothers, Walter and Robert, both at home. Also surviving are Wagaman's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 5, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Confer, State College.

Double funeral services for Miss Wagaman and her son will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Peter's Funeral Home. There will be no viewing and the services will be private. Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Miss Wagaman is survived by her parents, Charles L. and Martha (Naugle) Wagaman, and seven brothers and sisters, James Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 5; Charles Wagaman, Fairfield R. 2; Walter Wagaman, Littlestown R. 1; Mrs. Ella Musser, Mt. Alto; Mrs. Jeannie Green, Rouzerville; Mrs. Sadie Crist, Hunterstown, and Mrs. Goldie Clark, Gettysburg. Her son, Henry Ervin Wagaman, was a student at Gettysburg High School.

Glenn Zepp Will Address 4-H Dinner

Glenn Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4, one of the four Pennsylvania delegates to the National 4-H camp this summer, will be a speaker November 1 at the annual 4-H banquet to be held by the 4-H County Council at Two Taverns parish hall at 6:30 p.m.

Approximately 200 are expected for the annual event out of the 600 members of the 16 home economics and 11 agriculture 4-H Clubs in the county. Fred H. Attinger, associate county agent, John D. Naugle, assistant county agent, and Miss Florence H. Finger, extension home economist, joined in urging parents to attend the dinner. Tickets are available from the 4-H local leaders and reservations must be made by October 26.

Driver Fined $50 For Disorderliness

Elmer W. Kump, 44, Hanover, was fined $50 and $9 costs, on a charge of disorderly conduct at a hearing Friday afternoon before Justice of the Peace George A. Lippy, Hanover. He was arrested by Hanover police after his car collided with another vehicle at an intersection about 3 p.m.

Police said the Kump auto collided with a vehicle operated by Lavere M. Rebert, 54, of New Oxford R. 2. No one was injured.

Another charge, an exception to the right of way, was filed by police against Kump before Justice Lippy. Damage to Rebert's car was estimated at $125 and to Kump's vehicle at $120.

Soldier Hero Of First World War Will Receive Hero's Rites

WASHINGTON (AP)—Raised from an obscure rural graveyard, the body of Maj. Samuel Woodfill arrives today for rebuttal befitting a man once called America's "outstanding soldier" of World War I.

He will be interred Monday in Arlington National Cemetery amid military ceremony contrasting with the simple rites of his first burial near Madison, Ind., four years ago. Recognition came to Woodfill as tardily in life as it did in death.

Gen. John J. Pershing, choosing pallbearers for the unknown soldier in 1921, came across Wood-

Jacobs, auditor. Preliminary plans were made to hold the annual Christmas party for children of the members on December 9, from 7 to 9 p.m., at which time there will also be an exchange of gifts among the members.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Catherine Anstine, York, district president, will attend the meeting on December 8. The refreshment committee appointed for the next quarter includes Mrs. Mildred Weaver, Mrs. Helen Garner, Mrs. Ruth Dooley and Mrs. Hazel Harrison. It was announced that membership dues are now payable. It was announced that members are now receiving orders for Christmas cards and Christmas candy. During the social hour, refreshments were served by Helen Jacobs, Mrs. Emily Hahn and Mrs. Mary Reigle.

OREGON FAMILY ADOPTS KOREAN BOYS AND GIRLS

CRESWELL, Ore. (AP)—There was a "lot of bawling" at the Harry Holt farm home here last night when they tried to tuck eight new members of the family into their cribs.

The eight little oriental children, ranging in age from eight months to three years, were tired and irritable after the biggest day in their lives.

They arrived in Portland by airplane from Korea yesterday and then were brought by automobile to this little western Oregon town of 700.

House Inturnoil
Barbara, 16, one of the Holts' six other children, said things were pretty upset around the house last night.

"We would get them all quieted down and then one would start crying. That would set off the others—and we had to start all over again. There was a lot of bawling," she said.

How was the youngest of her new brothers and sisters? "Well," Barbara said wearily, "Little Betty Rhee still wants to be held."

Barbara added that the photographers and newsmen who crowded into the big Holt home "hadn't been much help."

But Barbara, like the rest of the prosperous farm family, was enjoying the excitement.

Mrs. Holt, as expected, was too busy to talk to reporters. She said earlier in the day before she met the children at the airport that she was the "most expectant mother in the world."

Father Exhausted
And Holt, who with the help of nurse Kathleen Cowan brought the children from Korea, was exhausted, too. "Oh, I'm tired, but awfully happy," he said when his wife met him at the Portland airport.

He hadn't seen his family since spring when he left for Korea to adopt the eight children—four boys and four girls—who had been abandoned by their Korean mothers and American servicemen fathers.

While he was gone Congress passed a special law to permit the Holts to bring the children to this country and adopt them.

SEMINARY GRAD PASSES AWAY

The Rev. Samuel J. Miller, 84, died Wednesday evening at his home in Edgemont, Md.

The Rev. Mr. Miller graduated from Gettysburg College in 1897 and from the Lutheran Theological Seminary in 1900.

Among his pastorates during his 52 years in the ministry were churches at Sparrows Point, Md. and in Baltimore.

He was born at Edgemont, a son of the late Levi and Sarah (Reynolds) Miller.

Surviving are a brother, Chancy C. Edgemont, and a number of nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Greensburg, Md., in charge of the Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, Rev. James Horn and Rev. Paul Smith, interment in Wetly's Cemetery.

Waives Hearing On Charge Of Robbery

Michael Joseph Cavanaugh, 45, York, waived hearing for robbery Thursday night before Alderman Thomas G. Little, York, and told the alderman he would plead guilty in court on Monday.

The defendant was returned to the York County Jail to await the court appearance on the charge that he beat and robbed Kenneth Diller, 36, Abbotstown, casually in the vicinity of York New Salem.

Police said Diller picked up Cavanaugh walking along the highway east of Abbotstown, bleeding from an eye wound suffered in a one-car accident near Paradise Protective. Cavanaugh is accused of striking Diller, taking his wallet, stripping off his trousers and stealing the car, which was found abandoned in West York. Pfc. Eugene Mihalk, of York Pennsylvania state police station, is the prosecutor.

Judge Decides On Wilson Petition

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge Theodore B. Reimel says he will decide on Monday whether to grant a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to free Raymond P. Wilson, 33, one of the two men charged with the July slaying of Mrs. Lulu B. H. Rossman, a wealthy widow.

Wilson, extradited from Las Vegas, Nev., was held without bail Oct. 3 on charges of murder, robbery, receiving stolen goods and being an accessory after the fact of murder.

His attorney, John Patrick Walsh, appeared before Judge Reimel yesterday to ask for the writ of habeas corpus.

Keeler Violates Post Office Law

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Federal Judge John W. Murphy heard William W. Keeler, Wyandaling, Bradford County, publisher of three weekly newspapers, plead guilty yesterday to charges of submitting false circulation statements to the Post Office Department.

The government charged that Keeler violated federal laws by signing statements to the Post Office Department in which he said that each paper had a circulation of more than 2,000. Two of them had a circulation of 1,000 each and the third 500, the government said.

Keeler is publisher of the Wyandaling Rocket and the Wyoming County Courier at Wyandaling and the Wyoming County News at Tunkhannock.

Sentence was deferred pending investigation by parole authorities.

Students believe the dandelion reached America in the ballast of the ships used by early colonists from Europe.

"The Princess Margaret has asked the press secretary to express the hope that the press and public will extend to her royal highness their customary courtesy and cooperation in respecting her privacy."

Two of London's big morning newspapers interpreted this statement as a conclusive sign the 25-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II plans to marry Townsend, 40-year-old divorced father of two children and a fighter pilot hero of the battle of Britain. Townsend, now British air attaché in Brussels, is on home leave.

Even as Britons scanned their morning papers eagerly for the latest details of the royal love story, the Princess and Townsend breakfasted quietly here in an old country house 10 miles from Windsor Castle and about 25 miles west of London.

They met as darkness fell last night at Allenby Hall, a stately red brick mansion of Margaret's cousin, Mrs. John Lyet Willis.

The couple drove separately from London. For most Britons, it was a secret meeting.

Philly Tax Officials Testify In Tax Probe

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Top officials of the Philadelphia office of the Internal Revenue Service will be called next week before a federal grand jury investigating the late Lemuel B. Schofield's failure to file federal income tax returns for six years prior to his death, U. S. Atty. W. Wilson White said yesterday.

White declined to identify the officials, who he said would be among six witnesses called when the grand jury investigation begins Thursday. He said the investigation would probably take a month.

He added that criminal prosecution would be taken if the investigation proved such prosecution was warranted.

Schofield, prominent Philadelphia criminal lawyer, died July 3 on his farm at nearby Phoenixville, Pa. He was 62. It was reported he owed the government nearly a million dollars in taxes.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Earl M. Honaman, York, today is the first suffragan bishop of the Harrisburg Episcopal Diocese.

Dr. Honaman was elected to the office yesterday at the close of the two-day diocesan convention at St. Stephen's Cathedral.

He will be assistant to the Rt. Rev. J. Thomas Heistand, bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese. He was elected on the eighth ballot.

Dr. Honaman is rector of St. John's Church in York.

PANGBORN HALL IS DEDICATED AT MT. ST. MARY'S

With more than a thousand alumni in attendance the Most Reverend Francis P. Keough, archbishop of Baltimore, solemnly dedicated the chapel and residence quarters of Pangborn Hall, new $400,000 senior dormitory building at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmittsburg, this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The ceremonies began with a procession of the Archbishop and distinguished guests and clergy from Bradley Hall to Pangborn Hall. Assisted by the Rev. Carl J. First, treasurer of the college, and the Rev. George L. Hopkins, chancellor of the Baltimore Archdiocese, Archbishop Keough then dedicated the chapel and rooms of Pangborn Hall. Responses were sung by the Mount St. Mary's Seminary choir under the direction of Rev. David W. Shaum.

Following an invocation by Archbishop Keough, the Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, secretary of the college, introduced Thomas W. Pangborn, Hagerstown industrialist, who with his brother, John, donated the residence to Mount St. Mary's through the Pangborn Foundation. In a short address Mr. Pangborn stressed his deep affection for Mount St. Mary's and emphasized the importance of a sound, moral education.

Mrs. Sheridan Speaks

Mrs. John L. Sheridan, president of Mount St. Mary's, thanked the Pangborn brothers in behalf of the college for their generous gift. He expressed his gratitude also to Governor McKeldin and Archbishop Keough. Governor McKeldin and Archbishop Keough spoke briefly lauding the spirit of the Pangborns which prompted gifts to institutions of higher education and the long, distinguished history of Mount St. Mary's, the nation's second oldest Catholic College.

Following the dedication luncheon was served to 250 distinguished guests in Bradley Hall. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Pangborn, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Pangborn, Governor and Mrs. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland; the most Rev. Bryan J. McEntegart, rector of the Catholic University of America; Rt. Rev. Msgr. William J. McDonald, vice rector of Catholic University; Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., president of Georgetown U.; Rt. Rev. Msgr. Louis C. Vaeth, director of the Society of the Propagation of the Faith for the archdiocese of Baltimore; Rev. James A. Martin, S.J., director of the Jesuit Retreat League, Washington, D. C.; Very Rev. Leo J. McCormick, superintendent of education for the Baltimore archdiocese; Rt. Rev. Msgr. James H. Casey, president of the Brooklyn Tablet; Rev. Francis A. McGinley, director of the Friends of the Carthusians in America; Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Schmidt, director of the propagation of the faith for the diocese of Harrisburg; and Very Rev. Stephen McNamee, S.J., representative of the Maryland Province, of the Society of Jesus.

Distinguished laymen in attendance included William Preston Lane Jr., former governor of Maryland; James P. McGranery, former attorney general of the United States; D. Kenneth McLaughlin, judge of the fourth judicial circuit of Maryland; Ellsworth R. Roullette, president, Nicodemus National Bank, Hagerstown; Thomas B. Butler, president, Mercantile Safe Deposit and Trust Company, Baltimore; William M. Brish, superintendent of schools, Washington County; and Mayor and Mrs. John A. Derr, Frederick, Md.

Wires of congratulations to both the Pangborns and Monsignor Sheridan from the presidents of all the MSM alumni chapters were read at the dinner.

The new residence hall houses 120 students in sixty rooms. The three-story building is constructed of native limestone and trimmed in limestone. The building also contains three clerical suites and recreation and lounge facilities. The chapel accommodates 84 students.

GAS TANK FIRE INJURES FIVE AT UNITED FUEL

HUBBALL, W. Va. — A fire slowly burned itself out early today in an explosion-tipped cracking plant of the United Fuel Gas Co.

Five men were burned, one seriously, when a series of blasts touched off the flames yesterday. But the disaster was almost as notable for what didn't happen as for what did.

Ten thousand gallons of highly explosive natural gas in three nearby tanks did not explode. Neither did 70,000 gallons of gas stored in tanks nearby a block from the fire.

Eight railroad tank cars on a spur line less than 100 yards from the explosion were moved before they could ignite. And none of the 50 children attending classes in a two-room school about 300 yards from the burning plant was hurt.

The explosions started when vapor and liquid escaping from a natural gas tank were ignited, apparently by sparks from a gasoline engine.

Charles S. Shaffer

Charles S. Shaffer, 21, of Dillsburg R. 3, died at 12:30 a.m. Friday at Carlisle Hospital of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Sunday.

Dr. Edward A. Haegel, Cumberland County coroner, attributed death to shock and multiple injuries. He said the case will be turned to York County Coroner Lester J. Sell.

Dr. Haegel said Shaffer's car and an auto driven by Richard Himes, 22, Dillsburg R. 1, collided a mile north of Dillsburg on the Route 15 by-pass at Nester's service station at 4 a.m. Sunday. Harrisburg state police are investigating.

Shaffer was graduated from Mechanicsburg High School in 1952 and was employed by Hershey Creamery Company, Harrisburg. He was a member of Filey's Sunday School, near Dillsburg.

Also surviving are a sister, Nancy A. Shaffer, at home; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cottenham, Dillsburg R. 3, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Jessie E. Shaffer, Richmond, Va.

Rev. James R. Nace, Rossview Lutheran charge pastor, will officiate at the funeral Monday at 2 p.m. at Cocklin Funeral Home, Dillsburg. Burial in Filey's Church Cemetery.

Mrs. Beulah M. Karns

Miss Beulah Myers Karns, 68, died suddenly Friday at noon at her home in Dillsburg. Chronic myocarditis caused death, according to York County Coroner Lester J. Sell.

Miss Karns was a member of Dillsburg Methodist Church and Sunday School, the church's WSCS and Dillsburg Woman's Club.

Surviving are four brothers, Bennett H. and Earl Karns, both of Dillsburg; J. Frank Karns, of Leomoyne, and M. Luther Karns, Mechanicsburg R. 4, and a sister, Mrs. Maxine Rosenberger, Dillsburg.

Rev. K. B. Metzger, her pastor, will officiate at the funeral Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Cocklin Funeral Home. Burial in Dillsburg Cemetery.

Mrs. Carrie B. Peters

Mrs. Carrie B. Peters, 80, York R. 3, widow of Willie R. Peters, died this morning at 5:55 o'clock at the York Hospital.

She was a native of Adams County, a daughter of the late George and Lucretia (Geyer) Freed. The deceased was a member of the Bendersville Lutheran Church.

Surviving are a son, Cameron Peters, Gardners R. 2; four daughters, Mrs. Paul A. Baker, York R. 8; Mrs. J. Elmer Warner, Fawn Grove; Mrs. Earl Crum, Biglerville, and Mrs. Ralph Jessop, York R. 8; six grandchildren; one great-grandchild, and one sister, Mrs. Dennis Asper, York R. 1.

Funeral services Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Edward Baumeister Funeral Home, S. Queen and Jackson Sts., York, conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble. Interment in the Bendersville Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Cabinet Asks Court To Review Appeal

OTTAWA (AP)—The Canadian Cabinet, in an unprecedented action, has asked the Supreme Court to reconsider Wilbert Coffin's appeal from a murder conviction in the slaying of a young Pennsylvania bear hunter.

Coffin, a 54-year-old prospector, was convicted of the killing of Robert Lindsey, 17, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., in the Gaspe Peninsula bush in July, 1953. The bear-mauled remains of young Lindsey, his father, Eugene Lindsey, 47, and a friend, Albert Clair, 20, were found in the Gaspe wilderness. Coffin insists he is innocent.

Coffin was to hang next Thursday at Bordeaux Jail in Montreal.

Woman Is Crammed In Refrigerator

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The body of a restaurant hostess, identified as Mary H. Shiklus, about 40, was found yesterday crammed into a kitchen refrigerator in new North Philadelphia home.

Two men, including a real estate appraiser, discovered the woman sitting with knees drawn up under her chin. She was fully clothed. The refrigerator was empty of all food and shelves.

Police said she had ordered the two-story house sold and then removed most of her furniture and other belongings. Neighbors told police the furniture was sent to her mother's home in Minersville, Pa. Cause of death was not immediately determined.

BONNIE Germany (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 79, in bed with bronchial pneumonia, continued to make progress, it was officially announced today.

His two doctors reported his temperature was only slightly above normal, and that there was a remission to arrange a similar reunion of all symptoms of illness.

He would have to remain in bed for some time, they added.

Japan Passes Into Oblivion As A Military Unit Of World: Tokyo
Oct. 15 (AP) — Japan slipped quietly and with mingled feelings into military oblivion today as its demobilization was completed on schedule and for the first time in history these islands held no combat force, either in fact or in name.

As the fighting force of 7,000,000 soldiers and sailors at home and abroad was reduced to nothing, the translation and interrogation section of Allied headquarters produced evidence that Japanese troops had used live Allied prisoners in bayonet practice on Guadalcanal and in China.

With the exit of the defeated, discredited warlords, Japanese political leaders stepped onto the national stage.

THE LOVE OF WONDER

When we cease to wonder we surrender a marvelous heritage. Life then is a withering experience. Look at a Maple leaf in its full maturity, or that of an oak, locust or tulip tree, the latter with a flower that is a work of art! Its leaf is most unusual, blunt, yet perfectly balanced in design. All leaves, however, are perfect — and during the autumn season they put on their wedding garb.

I have long been intrigued with the neediness of the many varieties of pines and hemlocks. A life study could be made of merely the leaves of trees, shrubs and flowers. They make up a miraculous family of designs. I never tire looking at any of them and I never cease to wonder at "what God hath wrought!"

Then there are the endless compositions of stones and minerals. Nature is a garden of beauty that challenges our interest and wonder. I had to read John Kieran's beautiful book on Trees, Flowers and Birds to learn how little I knew of them all. But to read his books is like adventuring with him on his tramps and strolls.

We can bury our mind in God's gifts, and that mind can smother so much of the unhappiness in this world. I have never known an unhappy lover of the things in nature. Somehow they blot out worries, troubles and fears. The toll of the years shrink when you look out upon the voiceless creations of God's earth. Even in the prison of the forest you feel free! You may even become lost there, but God is lost nowhere!

Now we enter the most colorful period of the year—autumn. The red maple and sumac paint a glorious picture, unforgettable. Our sense of wonder gets its new birth! Why can't we take on that celebration in our hearts? There is a spiritual experience in the presence of all beauty. It is the love of wonder that decorates the soul! Why should we ever cease to wonder!

THE BEAUTY PARLOR
In those historic days of old
When knights were bold and women fair,
Was beauty to the maidens sold?
And did beauticians wash their hair?
Were such appointments scheduled then?
By wives who wished to please their men?

The lovely lady may be late
When she has made a date with me,
And I must stand about and wait
An hour her charming smile to see,
But she'll be prompt the morning when
She's booked a hair-do nine to ten.
She'll get the children off to school,
Her daily round of tasks she'll drop,
Her coffee's not allowed to cool,
She must get to the beauty shop.
One minute late arriving there,
Some other woman gets the chair.

Fair Helen launched a thousand ships
And that was something,
I'll agree,
But who she'll lack her finger tips
Has been a secret kept from me.
No word the books of history drop
About her favorite beauty shop.

DENIES SAYING KNOWLAND AND NIXON CAN'T WIN

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Goodwin Knight was quoted Thursday as saying he didn't believe either Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) or Vice President Nixon could win as the 1956 Republican presidential candidate.

The Republican governor, a strong supporter of President Eisenhower, but embroiled in a hot political fight with Nixon partisans, denied "flatly and without equivocation" that he ever questioned Knowland's electability.

He did not reply directly to a request at a news conference to confirm he had said he opposes Nixon because "I just don't think Dick can win" if President Eisenhower doesn't run.

"I'm getting a little weary of being misinterpreted in this matter," he said.

He replied, "oh, no," when asked if Nixon lacked any of three prerequisites Knight enumerated for a Republican presidential nominee — integrity, stability and electability.

Charles Cleveland, political editor of the Chicago Daily News, said: "The facts are that I interviewed him (Knight) and he said everything he was quoted as saying in the story."

The governor, in that interview, reiterated his plans to head California's delegation to the Republican national convention next August if Eisenhower withdraws as a candidate, even if it means a primary election battle against a Nixon slate.

"If the President ask me," the story quoted Knight in regard to Nixon, "I'll tell him just what I'm telling you. I'll tell him that he may like the boy, but we just can't elect him."

Opposed By Labor
Knight was quoted as saying Nixon "can't win votes from the other side," that "labor will spend more money and manpower to beat him than any other candidate."

Knight, increasingly cool toward Nixon, has shown nothing but friendliness for Knowland. Knight and Knowland teamed in the past to fight off pro-Nixon attempts to gain state party control.

The governor, emphatic about Knowland, said: "Flatly and without equivocation, I never at any time or place said I didn't think Sen. Knowland could not win."

"On the contrary, Sen. Knowland has a tremendous following in the state and throughout the country and is a highly respected Republican leader."

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A former prisoner of war just returned from Russia said Friday that the Soviet Union is holding thousands of Poles in Siberian slave labor camps. He told the American-sponsored Radio Free Europe here that the Poles, captured during World War II, have been refused repatriation. The returnee, who refused to give his name for publication, said that a camp in Sverdlov in the Soviet Urals there were 600 Polish women who were arrested and deported after the Red army entered Poland in 1944.

Americans use an average of 20 pounds of rubber per year per person compared with about 1 pound for the rest of the world.

Betsy Holt, who has played leads in "The Tender Trap" and "On, Men! Oh, Women!" at Allenberry Playhouse this fall, will play the lead in "Wedding Breakfast," the comedy opening Monday at Allenberry. "Wedding Breakfast," the story of two sisters and their sweethearts, is the final show of the season which ends October 22 at Allenberry.

DEMS' LEADER SAYS PRESIDENT IS "HUCKSTER"

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler says the Geneva summit conference was a Communist success because of a "huckster approach to foreign policy" by the Eisenhower administration.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall countered in a debate last night that President Eisenhower and his Cabinet have brought America peace and prosperity.

"Nowhere in the world is an enemy soldier shooting at an American boy today," Hall said.

The chairman of the Republican and Democratic National Committees offered contrasting views of the present domestic and foreign problems—and their effects on the 1956 elections—to the annual meeting of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce. A national radio network—CBS—broadcast the hour-long debate.

"Prosperity With Peace"
Hall said the Eisenhower administration gave the country "prosperity like we never dreamed of before, but more important—a prosperity with peace."

He said more Americans are employed than at any time in history and that wages are higher than ever. Butler charged that the Eisenhower administration "with its Cabinet made up solely of representatives of super big business" favors the interests of business.

"Corporations' take-home pay last year—that is—profits after taxes, went up 26 per cent over the year before. But the average person's take-home pay was up only 3 per cent," Butler said.

The stockholder feels this Republican prosperity... but the farmer isn't feeling it."

"Members of our Cabinet don't represent any particular segment of our people," Hall said. "That Cabinet under President Dwight D. Eisenhower represents all 160 million Americans."

"Two-thirds of this farm drop he talks about happened under the Truman administration."

U.S. MAY LOSE SEAT ON COUNCIL FOR PHILIPPINES

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States risks serious loss of prestige in the U. N. today as its all-out fight to win the Philippines a Security Council seat faced possible defeat at Soviet hands.

The U. S. delegation appeared optimistic. It contended Russia suffered a stinging rebuff yesterday in its failure to push through Poland's bid for the disputed council seat after four deadlocked ballots in the 60-nation General Assembly.

But many observers felt the United States could derive small comfort from Poland's defeat. They pointed out that, by switching its support to Yugoslavia, Russia stands a good chance of blocking the Philippines and winding up on the winning side.

Resume Vote Tuesday
The Assembly will resume balloting Tuesday. Behind-the-scenes maneuvering, meanwhile, could do much to change the picture, but this stage most observers felt the Philippines had a slim chance.

On the sixth and final ballot the vote was 29 for the Philippines to 28 for Yugoslavia. This was the lowest tally for the Philippines on the six ballots. The U. S.-backed candidate started out on the first ballot with 33 to 34 for Poland and steadily gained until the third ballot, when it fell only one short of the required 39.

One veteran diplomat expressed belief the United States made two tactical errors:

1. By insisting that an Asian state should get the seat then Americans probably alienated a number of wavering countries who were impressed by Russia's charges that this breached the 1946 London Big Power agreement allocating a nonpermanent seat to an Eastern European power. The United States has contended this commitment only held good for 1946, but many diplomats feel it

Humphrey Meets President Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was reported carrying a budget of good news about the free world's economic outlook to the bedside of President Eisenhower in Denver today.

Associates aid the secretary, who has not seen the President since a fortnight before Eisenhower's heart attack Sept. 24, had "no pressing decisions" on budget or tax matters to take up with the chief executive.

However sources close to T. Coleman Andrews, commissioner of Internal Revenue, said that following Humphrey's visit with the President, Andrews' resignation would be announced.

Andrews was said to feel he has already stayed in Washington longer than he originally planned and that he has completed his program of "reorganizing and revitalizing" the Revenue Service.

was a gentlemen's agreement that should still be observed.

Helped Beat Poland
By placing the campaign on Communist issues, the United States may have helped beat Poland. But U. N. circles believed that as a result, the Americans would find it awkward to agree to Yugoslavia, if the Philippines dropped out. Yugoslavia is not a member of the Soviet bloc, but her Communist label bulks big in the minds of many.

Russia may have welcomed the chance to back Yugoslavia. It gave her an opportunity to follow up the friendly gestures of last summer when Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev made their pilgrimage to Belgrade to "normalize relations."

U. S. cigarettes made in 1955 contained about 3 per cent nicotine compared to about 2 per cent today.

SAYS MACHINES BOOST NUMBER OF JOBS IN U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Census Director Robert W. Burgess said today past fears about machines displacing human workers have proved groundless and there seems no reason it will be any different in the future.

In fact, Burgess said, automation—the introduction of new electronic and automatic machines—would boost the number of jobs in the long run despite possible temporary job dislocation.

Between 1940 and 1950 "many people were concerned about machines placing men," he said, yet the number of employed increased 25 per cent to 56 million. The job total now is about 65 million.

"Temporary Difficulty"
Burgess' optimism matched that of other witnesses who have appeared before a Senate-House Economic subcommittee studying the effects of the growing trend toward automation.

In his prepared testimony, Burgess said he does not "expect the further development of machines to reduce the number of jobs over the long term."

Burgess said there may be temporary difficulty in changing work assignments when new machines are introduced. This, he said, will cause personnel problems "requiring skillful handling and understanding of human relations."

Anne Kimbell To Play In Hershey

The only company of the original stage version of "The Seven Year Itch," starring Eddie Bracken, featuring Anne Kimbell, and a Broadway cast, comes to the Hershey Community Theater for three nights beginning Monday, October 24, with a matinee on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

This George Axelrod comedy enjoyed success in New York for more than three years. It is now on a coast-to-coast tour in the legitimate theaters under the same management of Courtney Burr and Eddie Nugent, the original producers. John Gostad did the direction.

The story tells of a husband who has been living the quiet life for seven years when his wife goes to the country for the summer. Then his "dream girls" move in, with the girl upstairs making the best impression.

Burgess said there may be temporary difficulty in changing work assignments when new machines are introduced. This, he said, will cause personnel problems "requiring skillful handling and understanding of human relations."

Southern California Boots Wisconsin From Unbeaten In 33-21 Victory Before 75,162

The Associated Press

If Southern California's victory over Wisconsin is any indication this may be a day of upsets in college football.

The Trojans walloped the Badgers from the Big 10, ranked sixth nationally, 33-21 in a Friday night scrap before 75,162 in Memorial Coliseum at Los Angeles.

This could point the finger at Michigan, Maryland, Oklahoma, Notre Dame and Georgia Tech, the five teams ranked above Wisconsin in The Associated Press poll. All were favored to win today but a football takes some funny bounces and come sundown Northwestern, North Carolina, Kansas, Michigan State and Auburn might have reason to do some crowing.

Halfback Jon Arnett led Southern Cal as the Trojans blasted Wisconsin out of the unbeaten ranks with four touchdowns in the second half. Wisconsin led at the half 7-6.

Utah Upsets Denver
Denver was favored to whip Utah, but was upset by the Redskins 27-7 in another Friday night encounter. The defeat erased Denver's title hopes in the Skyline Conference.

Vanderbilt battled hard against a reluctant Chattanooga line to win scored the first TD and halfback Joe Scates the other. Dave Orr, a skinny 148-pound halfback, scored three touchdowns to lead Colorado Mines to a 26-14 victory over Colorado College in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

Heavy rain postponed Detroit at Boston College until tonight. Cloudy skies and mid-50 temperatures were forecast at East Lansing, Mich., as Notre Dame, unbeaten, untied and unscored upon, took on Michigan State. Light showers were possible.

Depend On Hornung
The Irish, favored by a touchdown, rested its offense on the running and passing of quarterback Paul Hornung, fullback Don Schaefer and sophomore halfback Aubrey Lewis. Against them, USC tossed quarterback Earl Morrill and halfback Clarence Peaks.

Oklahoma, ranked No. 3, figured to have yet another winning homecoming for the old grads, opening the Big Seven Conference season against Kansas. The Sooners, yet to stretch their winning streak (longest active string among the collegians) to 23 games. They've already repealed the law of averages in the Big Seven — going through 47 straight games without a defeat in the conference.

Michigan, No. 1 in the nation, and Maryland, dumped to No. 2 this week, appear to have it easy — on paper at least. Michigan had nothing more serious than winless Northwestern to tangle with in a Big 10 game. Maryland played an Atlantic Coast Conference game against North Carolina.

A pair of top intersectional games shared the weekend spotlight. Duke, champs of the Orange Bowl, and Ohio State, victors in the Rose Bowl, met at Columbus, Ohio, in a battle of Bowl barons. It was a "pick 'em" game, despite the fact Ohio State was beset with backfield injuries, including a minor hurt to All-American Hopalong Cassidy.

In the other intersectional meeting, Baylor tested unbeaten Washington at Seattle.

Other Battles
Three important conference games also highlighted the day's schedule. Georgia Tech, No. 5, was confronted by Auburn's big bid for a Southeastern Conference crown.

Texas Christian No. 7, had a chance to further its Southwest Conference ambitions against Texas A&M, beaten only by UCLA; and Cornell and Yale, co-champs of the Ivy League last season, met anew at New Haven, Conn.

Navy, No. 8, and UCLA, No. 9, had semiford pickings while West Virginia, No. 10, was expected to maul William and Mary. The Middle, also unbeaten and unscored upon, were confronted by mud and Penn State. UCLA, tops defensively in the Pacific Coast Conference, ran into Stanford, tops offensively.

Other top games:
EAST — Harvard at Columbia; Syracuse at Army; Rutgers at Brown, Nebraska at Pitt; Drake at Boston U.

SOUTH — Tennessee at Alabama, Louisiana State at Florida, Georgia at Florida State (night), Mississippi State at Kentucky, Mississippi at Tulane, Wake Forest at North Carolina State.

MIDWEST — Minnesota at Illinois, Purdue at Iowa, Villanova at Indiana, Colorado at Kansas State, Missouri at Iowa State.

SOUTHWEST — Texas at Arkansas, Rice at Southern Methodist, Oklahoma A&M at Houston.

FAR WEST — Washington State at Idaho, California at Oregon (night), Oregon State at College of the Pacific (night), Tulsa at Wyoming, Montana at Utah State.

BALDONI WINS OVER DRAKE ON SPLIT DECISION

By OWEN CRUMB

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—There was a new face peering through the lower rungs in the middleweight ladder today. It was a tough but pleasant face. It belonged to Tony Baldoni, a former Marine who still looks and fights like one.

Baldoni threw a stiff block in the path of fast-rising Ray Drake last night when he scored a split decision over the Brooklyn transplant to nearby Geneva in their 10-round fight in the War Memorial Auditorium.

Because of heavy rain only 572 paid fans—the smallest gathering in the auditorium's four-year history—turned over $22,275 to the International and Arena Boxing Clubs for the disputed privilege of seeing that fight and two companion 10-rounders.

Builds Early Edge

Drake had been looking like a hot contender for middleweight honors since he outpointed Danny Glanovelli in Madison Square Garden a few weeks ago.

It was the old story of a clever boxer underestimating the early-going power of a tough slugger. Baldoni, short and stocky, and from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., outweighted Drake by two pounds at 159½. He built up an edge early that was too much for Drake to overcome.

Judge Dick Fazio and Referee Joe Palmer scored it 5-4-1 Baldoni. Judge Ted Shiels called it 4-4-2. The Associated Press card agreed with Shiels and also had them even on points.

BURY VICTIMS OF PLANE CRASH

TOWANDA, Pa. (AP)—This community turned out almost en masse yesterday for the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Merrill who were killed in a plane crash which took 66 lives. They and another couple won a ride in the plane on the flip of a coin.

Merrill, a vice president of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., his wife Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. James E. McGarr were killed in a United Air Lines crash on Wyoming's Medicine Bow Peak Oct. 6.

Paul Felten, a Sylvania official, and his wife lost the flip of a coin to see who would get on the plane. There were not enough seats to include the three couples.

Felten was among the honorary pallbearers. More than 1,000 persons attended the funeral services at the Presbyterian Church. It was necessary to use the Sunday school room, the banquet hall, and the gymnasium as well as the main auditorium.

Merrill was in charge of the Atomic Energy Division of Sylvania. Funeral services were to be held today for Mr. and Mrs. McGarr at Beverly, Mass. He was general manager of the Tungsten Chemical Division of Sylvania.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for Saturday, Oct. 15, through Wednesday, Oct. 19:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and Middle Atlantic States: Temperature will average near normal, cool over weekend, warmer by Tuesday and cooler again Wednesday, rain about Tuesday and in north Saturday and Wednesday, will total around ½ inch south and ranging up to 2 inches north.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York, Ohio and West Virginia: Temperature will average 2-3 degrees below normal; cooler over weekend, warmer Monday and then cooler Tuesday night and Wednesday, rain about Tuesday and in northeast Saturday and Wednesday, will total about ½ inch except 1-2 inches northeast.

ALWAYS ATE AT HOME
GOVERNOR, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Melinda Richards, 100 yesterday, credits home-cooked meals for her longevity.

"She's never had a meal in a hotel or restaurant in her life," said Lewis Cornell, her son-in-law.

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A six-jet B47 bomber powered into a hill and exploded killing four crewmen Thursday night shortly after it had taken off on an instrument training flight from nearby March Air Force Base.

Rain Postpones All Grid Games

Scholastic football schedules underwent another shakeup when rain fell for the fifth Friday since the season started six weeks ago. Biglerville and Littlestown have re-scheduled their game for tonight at Littlestown at 8 o'clock.

The Gettysburg-Middletown contest was set back until Monday at 7:30 at Middletown.

Two other South Penn games were postponed until tonight. Chambersburg will play at Mechanicsburg at 8 o'clock and Hanover tangles with Waynesboro on the latter's field at 8:30. Non-conference games were re-listed as follows: Scotland at Carlisle tonight at 8, and Hummelstown at Hershey, Monday at 7:30.

STEELERS FACE EAGLES TONIGHT

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers get a chance to prove they're real contenders for the National Football League's Eastern Division title tonight in meeting the win-hungry Philadelphia Eagles.

Philadelphia, preseason favorite in the division, rules a 6½-point choice despite a mediocre 1-2 record.

The Eagles are on the outside looking in at a four-way tie for the division lead. Among the leaders are the surprising Steelers with a 2-1 record.

A victory tonight would give the Steelers first place at least until tomorrow's games are played.

Cleveland and Washington, two of the other teams tied for first, meet in the nation's capital. The Chicago Cardinals, the fourth member of the quartet, are out to add another defeat to the hapless New York Giants' string of three.

In the Western Division, the rambling Colts from Baltimore put their 3-0 record on the line against the Chicago Bears, who haven't won in three starts.

Unbeaten Los Angeles is at Green Bay, and San Francisco plays at Detroit, another turn-of-the-wheel loser.

Stevenson Will Accept If Offered

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP)—Former Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois said last night he has made his mind up on whether he will be a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination. But he kept his decision to himself.

He said if he is "offered" the Democratic nomination, as he was at Chicago in 1952, he would accept it.

"My impression is, however, that I will not be so offered the nomination," he said.

"I plan to make known my stand in the near future," he told reporters at a news conference. He is in Kingston to receive an honorary degree at Queen University today.

Rose of Sharon, "My God and I," "The Your Sins Be As Scarlet," "Were You There," "Keep In The Middle of the Road," "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" and "Send Out Thy Light." There are seven tenors and seven basses in the chorus.

The Good News Club started in the Great Conewago Presbyterian Church three years ago with scanty attendance. For ten through 14-year-olds, the walk from Hunters-town to the church on dark nights was too dangerous.

That prompted a desire to move into the community. When the club held its first meetings in the new community center, meetings that were held in the midst of the renovation program, 25 appeared. Last Wednesday 35 attended and the center did not have chairs enough for them.

Directed At Youngsters

Mrs. Ford says she plans to borrow some benches—"they'll do till we get enough money for some more chairs. Maybe we'll raise enough at the October 30 concert to buy additional chairs."

With 100 youngsters in the Hunters-town area, the Good News Club hopes to reach all of them in due course. At present the 10 through 14-year-olds are being reached by the club. There are plans for a chorus or choir for the older teen-agers in the near future. And when the center is in full operation "who can tell what programs we may be able to develop?" says Mrs. Ford.

Aiding her in the work is her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clair Ford. Her son also is helping bring activities to Hunters-town. His organization, the Hunters-town Band, now has about 30 members and is becoming a force in the community. It has tentative plans to use the community center for practice—"on the nights when there is nothing else going on there."

Library Facilities

The Good News Club children are expected to be the first users of the new library. The younger one particularly arrive early. There are some chair-desks there and the youngsters like to read before the meeting. During the last three years quite a number of books have been secured, and most of those are now being catalogued at the Adams County Free Library building here.

Types Of Books

The Hunters-town library will have two types of books. About half will be books that were donated by residents of Hunters-town for their own library. In addition the Adams County Free Library will send a bookmobile load to the Hunters-town center, changing the titles every three months. The first load from the bookmobile will arrive Monday, and the majority of the books available when the library opens Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock will be from the bookmobile.

The Good News Club will also meet there at 7 o'clock Wednesday evenings. Friday evening Mrs. Ford plans to have the library open from 7 to 9 o'clock as well—and it is possible that some community center activities may develop for that evening.

As to the future—well there are lots of hopes and plans. It might be that Hunters-town's library-community center-club meeting room will in due course be open every night, with different community activities taking place.

Robin Roberts and Don Newcombe were the only major league pitchers to hit the 20-game mark in victories during 1955. Roberts won 23 games and Newcombe 20.

NAME HORSES RACING TODAY FOR BIG PURSES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Name horses of the turf, led by the great Nashua, and 2-year-old fillies seeking a reputation race for the big money at the nation's major tracks today.

Garden State offers the richest purse in the first running of the $50,000 added Gardenia for 2-year-old fillies. But the chief interest will be at Belmont Park, where Nashua makes his final start of the year in the $75,000 added Jockey Club Gold Cup.

The Gardenia, a test of a mile and one-sixteenth, has attracted a field of 13 high ranking fillies. If all start the stake will gross $130,300 with $87,275 going to the winner.

The Jockey Club Gold Cup, a run of 2 miles, drew only four rivals, three of them 3-year-olds, for Nashua's farewell.

Nashua, with Eddie Arcaro in the saddle, will carry 119 pounds along with Thinking Cap, Mark's Puzzle and Sweet Chariot. Elevation, a 4-year-old, picks up 124.

East Acres' Cosman, speedy and game as proven by her five victories in six starts, is the likely choice in the Gardenia. She'll be ridden by Willie Hartack, the nation's leading jockey with 345 victories. Howell E. Jackson's Nashua is the probable second choice.

Southern California Boots Wisconsin From Unbeaten In 33-21 Victory Before 75,162

The Associated Press

If Southern California's victory over Wisconsin is any indication this may be a day of upsets in college football.

The Trojans walloped the Badgers from the Big 10, ranked sixth nationally, 33-21 in a Friday night scrap before 75,162 in Memorial Coliseum at Los Angeles.

This could point the finger at Michigan, Maryland, Oklahoma, Notre Dame and Georgia Tech, the five teams ranked above Wisconsin in The Associated Press poll. All were favored to win today but a football takes some funny bounces and come sundown Northwestern, North Carolina, Kansas, Michigan State and Auburn might have reason to do some crowing.

Halfback Jon Arnett led Southern Cal as the Trojans blasted Wisconsin out of the unbeaten ranks with four touchdowns in the second half. Wisconsin led at the half 7-6.

Utah Upsets Denver

Denver was favored to whip Utah, but was upset by the Redskins 27-7 in another Friday night encounter. The defeat erased Denver's title hopes in the Skyline Conference.

Vanderbilt battled hard against a reluctant Chattanooga line to win scored the first TD and halfback Joe Scates the other. Dave Orr, a skinny 148-pound halfback, scored three touchdowns to lead Colorado Mines to a 26-14 victory over Colorado College in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

Heavy rain postponed Detroit at Boston College until tonight.

Cloudy skies and mid-50 temperatures were forecast at East Lansing, Mich., as Notre Dame, unbeaten, untied and unscored upon, took on Michigan State. Light showers were possible.

Depend On Hornung

The Irish, favored by a touchdown, rested its offense on the running and passing of quarterback Paul Hornung, fullback Don Schaefer and sophomore halfback Aubrey Lewis. Against them, USC tossed quarterback Earl Morrill and halfback Clarence Peaks.

Oklahoma, ranked No. 3, figured to have yet another winning Homecoming for the old grads, opening the Big Seven Conference season against Kansas. The Sooners, set to stretch their winning streak (longest active string among the collegians) to 23 games. They've already repealed the law of averages in the Big Seven — going through 47 straight games without a defeat in the conference.

Michigan, No. 1 in the nation, and Maryland, dumped to No. 2 this week, appear to have it easy — on paper at least. Michigan had nothing more serious than winless Northwestern to tangle with in a Big 10 game. Maryland played an Atlantic Coast Conference game against North Carolina.

A pair of top intersectional games shared the weekend spotlight. Duke, champs of the Orange Bowl, and Ohio State, victors in the Rose Bowl, met at Columbus, Ohio, in a "pick 'em" game, despite the fact Ohio State was beset with backfield injuries, including a minor hurt to All-American Hopalong Cassidy.

In the other intersectional meeting, Baylor tested unbeaten Washington at Seattle.

Other Battles

Three important conference games also highlighted the day's schedule. Georgia Tech, No. 5, was confronted by Auburn's big bid for a Southeastern Conference crown; Texas Christian No. 7, had a chance to further its Southwest Conference ambitions against Texas A&M, beaten only by UCLA; and Cornell and Yale, co-champs of the Ivy League last season, met anew at New Haven, Conn.

Navy, No. 8, and UCLA, No. 9, had semisoft pickings while West Virginia, No. 10, was expected to maul William and Mary. The Middies, also unbeaten and unscored upon, were confronted by mud and Penn State. UCLA, tops defensively in the Pacific Coast Conference, ran into Stanford, tops offensively.

Other top games: EAST — Harvard at Columbia, Syracuse at Army, Rutgers at Brown, Nebraska at Pitt, Drake at Boston U.

MIDWEST — Minnesota at Illinois, Purdue at Iowa, Villanova at Indiana, Colorado at Kansas State, Missouri at Iowa State.

SOUTHWEST — Texas at Arkansas, Rice at Southern Methodist, Oklahoma A&M at Houston. FAR WEST — Washington State at Idaho, California at Oregon (night), Oregon State at College of the Pacific (night), Tulsa at Wyoming, Montana at Utah State.

During the last three years quite a number of books have been secured, and most of those are now being catalogued at the Adams County Free Library building here.

Types Of Books

The Hunters-town library will have two types of books. About half will be books that were donated by residents of Hunters-town for their own library. In addition the Adams County Free Library will send a bookmobile load to the Hunters-town center, changing the titles every three months. The first load from the bookmobile will arrive Monday, and the majority of the books available when the library opens Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock will be from the bookmobile.

The Good News Club will also meet there at 7 o'clock Wednesday evenings. Friday evening Mrs. Ford plans to have the library open from 7 to 9 o'clock as well—and it is possible that some community center activities may develop for that evening.

As to the future—well there are lots of hopes and plans. It might be that Hunters-town's library-community center-club meeting room will in due course be open every night, with different community activities taking place.

Robin Roberts and Don Newcombe were the only major league pitchers to hit the 20-game mark in victories during 1955. Roberts won 23 games and Newcombe 20.

NAME HORSES RACING TODAY FOR BIG PURSES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Name horses of the turf, led by the great Nashua, and 2-year-old fillies seeking a reputation race for the big money at the nation's major tracks today.

Garden State offers the richest purse in the first running of the $50,000 added Gardenia for 2-year-old fillies. But the chief interest will be at Belmont Park where Nashua makes his final start of the year in the $75,000 added Jockey Club Gold Cup.

The Gardenia, a test of a mile and one-sixteenth, has attracted a field of 13 high ranking fillies. If all start the stake will gross $130,300 with $87,275 going to the winner.

The Jockey Club Gold Cup, a run of 2 miles, drew only four rivals, three of them 3-year-olds, for Nashua's farewell.

Nashua, with Eddie Arcaro in the saddle, will carry 119 pounds along with Thinking Cap, Mark's Puzzle and Sweet Chariot. Cheva-ton, a 4-year-old, picks up 124.

East Acres' Cosmah, speedy and game as proven by her five victories in six starts, is the likely choice in the Gardenia. She'll be ridden by Willie Hartack, the nation's leading jockey with 345 victories. Howell E. Jackson's Nashua is the probable second choice.

Expert Says Automobiles Should Be Given More Than "Lick And Promise" Check

The booming automobile business is good proof that streamlining may be just another word for the silver lining.

Neglect Is Piling Up

Now is the logical time to give the car the benefit of those special attentions which it may have needed during the summer but which for one reason or another were overlooked. Bear in mind, however, that in following the rule of "better late than never" this summer's end attention to the car must be something more than the proverbial lick and a promise.

If you failed to have some part of the car lubricated there is now a good possibility that an adjustment or a replacement is in order. Brakes, for instance, that may have been benefited by checking may now need a major adjustment which is more than taking up on brake-shoe clearance. This is also the logical time to consider possible damage to the car by reason of the hard work to which it was subjected in some unusual summertime use. The exhaust system is typical, high speeds tending to create vibrations which loosen the exhaust manifold. Backing over some rough terrain may have bent the tail pipe or pinched it.

If you failed to have the oil-bath type air cleaner cleaned and the right amount of summer grade oil put into its container the chances are that the carburetor has had to inhale a lot of dirty air during the summer. That bit of neglect will call for cleaning the carburetor.

Tubeless Mystery Solved

Troubled by mysterious loss of air from one of the tubeless tires on your car?

If, as the chances are that there is leakage of air at the seams of the wheel. Checking is done by inflating the tire to the recommended pressure and wiping a soapy solution around the wheel seams and rivets. If air is escaping there will be bubbles. Such leakage can be checked with the aid of special cement for the purpose.

It is queer how this automotive typewriter has a way of misspelling words in order to give a different yet sometimes related meaning. Often the keys of the vehicle in question just a few minutes ago I looked back over some copy and found a word that puzzled me. I had intended writing "safety" but what I found was "savety."

How these typewriters know so much is beyond me.

Mechanic Joe Speaking: "For some reason there continues to be considerable misunderstanding regarding the reason why no anti-freeze should be left in the cooling system all year or saved for re-use another winter. The usual story is that the solution becomes acid with continued use, and that this acid may eat into the cylinder head gasket to cause a coolant leak. This is not quite the situation, however."

It is true that slow and normal leakage of combustion gases past the cylinder head gasket into the cooling system is acid in its reaction. The inhibitors used to check rusting of the cooling system are alkaline. So the net effect of the combination is salt. It is this salt, not the acid, which has the really harmful effect on the system."

Those squealing tires in a panic stop invariably indicate poor handling of the brakes. As soon as wheels are locked braking is transferred to the tires, and as we know rubber makes poor brake lining. It isn't easy for the inexperienced driver to remember to release the brakes the instant a squeal starts and then apply them again, and to keep up this intermittent action until the car comes to a safe stop, but it is the only efficient course. The trick is to keep the wheels from locking.

Margin For Safety

Speaking of squealing tires during sudden stopping I am reminded to pass along an idea which I have used for years. In event of a quick unexpected stop I try to control the car so that it could be stopped further than necessary behind the car ahead. That provides a margin so that if the man behind is having trouble stopping his car I can move up a few feet. Especially if he locks the wheels of his car and his tires start to squeal I know that his tire is imperative.

Normally you would not expect to be able to climb a steep hill better if you took your foot off the accelerator, even for a moment, but experience demonstrates that often sudden closing of the throttle will cause the pistons to suck oil up from the crankcase and by helping to lubricate the motor in a critical zone will actually provide better performance. This is an old race track trick, and it works especially well when climbing long grades at a good rate of speed.

The closing should be for just an instant, and you have to be careful not to kick down beyond the resistance point when opening the throttle wide again. If you kick down too far, and if your car is equipped with overdrive or with an automatic transmission, the system will switch to the "passing" gear which you may not need at all.

New Aid In Driving

Appearance of an air speed indicator on a hood ornament that serves also as a bug deflector suggests that before long cars will be equipped with instruments to indicate air velocity. It will be helpful when trying to get maximum gas mileage by giving a better clue as to head and tail winds. Currently the idea is useful especially in night driving when the driver can note where the indicator points for a certain car speed. Then he can switch off the dash lights and get a better view of the road, knowing by the position of the pointer just about how fast he is traveling. It obviates need for taking his eyes off the road to check the speedometer.

By saving a second when starting to apply the brake pedal you often can reduce stopping distance enough to prevent a collision, and it is for this reason that several companies have offered combination accelerator and brake pedals within the past few years. One of these is so designed that the driver feeds gas by depressing the pedal with the heel of his right foot. Pressing the same pedal with the toes of this foot provides braking. Thus the normal rocking action of the foot, without any further movement, provides a way to go from motive power to brake power. Many drivers are using left foot braking in order to cut the time lag which has to be reckoned where there are the conventional brake and accelerator pedals to operate.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. The engine of my car runs quite rough while warming up, in spite of the fact that the choke and the manifold heat control valve are working normally.

A. It is likely that the exposed ignition parts are wet with moisture from condensation when the engine is cold. Try wiping off these parts before cranking.

Q. Is it possible to use safety inner tubes in tubeless tires? I have puncture resistant tubes in my present car Wm. L. T.

A. Yes, you can use any kind of inner tubes in tubeless tires. There now are special inner tubes for this purpose, where owners demand the maximum in safety.

Q. I dislike having the cylinder heads taken off in order to remove carbon, especially since tests show that the valves are seating properly. But an accumulation of carbon is starting to cause ping-pong even with premium gas. T. H. G.

A. You can have carbon removed by one of the new processes. It is done without removing the heads, special material that chips off carbon deposits being blown into the cylinders through the spark plug openings. Then the carbon is sucked out.

Q. I notice that while the brakes on my car work well after the car has been driven awhile there is grabbing during the first few stops. Is there any way to check this? Brakes appear to be well adjusted. S. McB.

A. Apparently the brake lining on your car is sensitive to dampness. You can "condition" the lining by driving about 50 yards with the brake pedal held down under light pressure and with the engine pulling the car in low gear.

Q. I have been told that there are several different kinds of cylinder head gasket leakage. Will you please explain? L. F. S.

A. You can have an internal or an external water leak. Oil can also leak out or into the combustion chambers so as to burn off. There can be compression leakage at the head gasket. And you can have leakage between cylinders.

Q. Lately the engine of my car has become jerky, whenever the car is slowed down in high gear. Is this valve trouble? J. M.

A. Not necessarily. I am more inclined to believe that in your case the timing is too far advanced.

Q. When we checked into the condition of the engine of my car recently we found that several of the valves were burned. This led to speculation as to the cause. Do you think it was due to weak valve springs? G. H.

A. This could be the case, but now that the engine is back into shape again be sure to check for evidences of a too lean mixture. It can be due to too low carburetor float level, too lean idling adjustment, clogged jets or to a weak fuel pump.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

* TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese who once pulled a rickshaw for a living and who is a stern critic of the United States Friday became head of the powerful new Socialist party in Japan.

Slender, scholarly Mosaburo Suzuki was elected chairman of the new Socialist party at a convention that welded into one bloc the left and right wings which had been divided over policy since 1951.

The 62-year-old Suzuki predicted in an interview his forces will win 200 seats in the next election — perhaps next spring. They now have 155 votes in the 467-seat lower house of the Diet, dominated by Conservatives.

"And in the following election," he said, "we will win a majority."

held at Frederick last week. Larry Barnhart, Henry Lippincott, Albert Angell, Laverne Albano, Eddie Kauffman, Glen Copenhaver, Clyde Weant, Daniel Ridinger participated in the judging of dairy, livestock, and poultry. Results as yet have not been announced.

The first PHA meeting of the year was held in the home economics room in order to acquaint new members with the club's organization. Plans were discussed concerning a movie in the near future and the decorations of the health room. A contribution of $25 was made toward the purchase of an automatic washing machine. A get-together party was planned for the near future.

David Bair led the Taneytown Key Club in the invocation at the weekly meeting in the home economics laboratory. Guest teacher was Robert Neal. The club will attend the Taneytown Trinity Lutheran Church on October 16. A committee was selected to arrange for the dance on November 4. Key-noters were given out to the members of the club.

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN — The regular meeting of the Women's Guild of the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church was held recently with the Missionary committee in charge. The program was opened with the call to worship by Mrs. Ned Musser, and included: hymn; Scripture reading, Mrs. William Airing; solo, Mrs. William Meinring with Mrs. George Motter, accompanist; readings, Mrs. Harry Clinean Mrs. Janet Smith, Mrs. George Fream, and Miss Mary Shriver. The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. G. Emerson Rue. November 13 was set for the Thank offering during the morning service with Mrs. Guy Benchoff as speaker.

The monthly meeting of the Taneytown Junior Girls 4-H club was held at the home of Anita Jester. Miss Joyce Riggs, assistant home economics demonstration agent, illustrated baking methods. A costume Halloween party and hay ride to Audrey Singel's home was planned for October 26. The group will meet at Miss Belva Koon's residence at 7 p.m. for the hay ride. Judy Halfley was named game committee chairman with Mary Baker and Sandra Cutsail as assistants. Audrey Singel, Jean Howarth, Anita Jester, and Mary Ellen Stonesifer are in charge of refreshments. Three new members were brought into the club: Nancy Myers, Sandra Cutsail, and Katherine Jennings. The next meeting is November 15 at Sandra Harver's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence, near town, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anders, Washington, D. C.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shorb were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wiser, Hampstead.

BENSON WILL HELP TO SPEED FARM REVENUE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration leaders were reported Friday to have given Secretary of Agriculture Benson free rein to draft proposed additions to GOP farm policies designed to speed recovery of farm income.

The emphasis was on the term "addition" — because Benson has declared there will be no retreat from present Republican policies which feature flexible farm price supports as contrasted with high, rigid price floors of the Truman administration.

These reports came on the heels of a conference Benson held with Vice President Nixon Thursday. They also followed talk in farm circles that top administration officials were split on whether the government was doing enough to help farmers.

Sources close to Benson, who asked that they not be named, said the secretary was "quite happy" with recent developments, including his meeting with Nixon.

Benson declared after his session with Nixon that "there is no split" within the administration over farm policies. "The Cabinet is solidly behind the administration," he said.

Nixon did not comment. He said in advance that Benson "will speak for me."

Expert Says Automobiles Should Be Given More Than "Lick And Promise" Check

The zooming automobile business is good proof that streamlining may be just another word for the silver lining.

Neglect Is Piling Up

Now is the logical time to give the car the benefit of those special attentions which it may have needed during the summer but which for one reason or another were overlooked. Bear in mind, however, that in following the rule of "better late than never" this summer's end attention to the car must be something more than the proverbial lick and a promise.

If you failed to have some part of the car lubricated there is now a good possibility that an adjustment or a replacement is in order. Brakes, for instance, that may have been benefited by checking may now need a major adjustment which is more than taking up on brake-shoe clearance. This is also the logical time to consider possible damage to the car by reason of the hard work to which it was subjected in some unusual summertime use. The exhaust system is typical, high speeds tending to create vibrations which loosen the exhaust manifold. Backing over some rough terrain may have bent the tail pipe or pinched it.

If you failed to have the oil-bath type air cleaner cleaned and the right amount of summer grade oil put into its container, the chances are that the carburetor has had to inhale a lot of dirty air during the summer. That bit of neglect will call for cleaning the carburetor.

Tubeless Mystery Solved

Troubled by mysterious loss of air from one of the tubeless tires on your car?

If, so, the chances are that there is leakage of air at the seams of the wheel. Checking is done by inflating the tire to the recommended pressure and wiping a soapy solution around the wheel seams and rivets. If air is escaping there will be bubbles. Such leakage can be checked with the aid of special cement for the purpose.

It is queer how this automotive typewriter has a way of misspelling words in order to give a different yet sometimes related meaning. Often the keys of the vehicle in question just a few minutes ago I looked back over some copy and found a word that puzzled me. I had intended writing "safety," but what I found was "safety."

How these typewriters know so much is beyond me.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"For some reason there continues to be considerable misunderstanding regarding the reason why no anti-freeze should be left in the cooling system all year or saved for re-use another winter. The usual story is that the solution becomes acid with continued use, and that this acid may eat into the cylinder head gasket to cause a coolant leak. This is not quite the situation, however.

It is true that slow and normal leakage of combustion gases past the cylinder head gasket into the cooling system is acid in its reaction. The inhibitors used to check rusting of the cooling system are alkaline. So the net effect of the combination is salt. It is this salt, not the acid, which has the really harmful effect on the system."

Those squealing tires in a panic stop invariably indicate poor handling of the brakes. As soon as wheels are locked braking is transferred to the tires, and as we know rubber makes poor brake lining. It isn't easy for the inexperienced driver to remember to release the brakes the instant a squeal starts and then apply them again, and to keep up this intermittent action until the car comes to a safe stop, but it is the only efficient course. The trick is to keep the wheels from locking.

Margin For Safety

Speaking of squealing tires during sudden stopping I am reminded to pass along an idea which I have used for years. In event of a quick unexpected stop I try to control the car so that it could be stopped further than necessary behind the car ahead. That provides a margin so that if the man behind is having trouble stopping his car I can move up a few feet. Especially if he locks the wheels of his car and his tires start to squeal I know that my rule is imperative.

Normally you would not expect to be able to climb a steep hill better if you took your foot off the accelerator, even for a moment, but experience demonstrates that often sudden closing of the throttle will cause the pistons to suck oil up from the crankcase and by helping to lubricate the motor in a critical zone will actually provide better performance. This is an old race track trick, and it works especially well when climbing long grades at a good rate of speed. The closing should be for just an instant, and you have to be careful not to kick down beyond the resistance point when opening the throttle wide again. If you kick down too far, and if your car is equipped with overdrive or with an automatic transmission, the system will switch to the "passing" gear which you may not need at all.

New Aid In Driving

Appearance of an air speed indicator on a hood ornament that serves also as a bug deflector suggests that before long cars will be equipped with instruments to indicate air velocity. It will be helpful when trying to get maximum gas mileage by giving a better clue as to head and tail winds. Currently the idea is useful especially in night driving when the driver can note where the indicator points for a certain car speed. Then he can switch off the dash lights and get a better view of the road, knowing by the position of the pointer just about how fast he is traveling. It obviates need for taking his eyes off the road to check the speedometer.

By saving a second when starting to apply the brake pedal you often can reduce stopping distance enough to prevent a collision, and it is for this reason that several companies have offered combination accelerator and brake pedals within the past few years. One of these is so designed that the driver feeds gas by depressing the pedal with the heel of his right foot. Pressing the same pedal with the toes of this foot provides braking. Thus the normal rocking action of the foot, without any further movement, provides a way to go from motive power to brake power. Many drivers are using left foot braking in order to cut the time lag which has to be reckoned where there are the conventional brake and accelerator pedals to operate.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. The engine of my car runs quite rough while warming up, in spite of the fact that the choke and the manifold heat control valve are working normally.

A. It is likely that the exposed ignition parts are wet with moisture from condensation when the engine is cold. Try wiping off these parts before cranking.

Q. Is it possible to use safety inner tubes in tubeless tires?

A. Yes, you can use any kind of inner tubes in tubeless tires. There now are special inner tubes for this purpose, where owners demand the maximum in safety.

Q. I dislike having the cylinder heads taken off in order to remove carbon, especially since tests show that the valves are seating properly. But an accumulation of carbon is starting to cause pinging even with premium gas. T. H. G.

A. You can have carbon removed by one of the new processes. It is done without removing the heads. Special material that chips off carbon deposits being blown into the cylinders through the spark plug openings. Then the carbon is sucked out.

Q. I notice that while the brakes on my car work well after the car has been driven awhile there is grabbing during the first few stops. Is there any way to check this? Brakes appear to be well adjusted. S. McB.

A. Apparently the brake lining on your car is sensitive to dampness. You can "condition" the lining by driving about 50 yards with the brake pedal held down under light pressure and with the engine pulling the car in low gear.

Q. I have been told that there are several different kinds of cylinder head gasket leakage. Will you please explain? L. F. S.

A. You can have an internal or an external water leak. Oil can also leak out or into the combustion chambers so as to burn off. There can be compression leakage at the head gasket. And you can have leakage between cylinders.

Q. Lately the engine of my car has become jerky, whenever the car is slowed down in high gear. Is this valve trouble? J. M.

A. Not necessarily. I am more inclined to believe that in your case the timing is too far advanced.

Q. When we checked into the condition of the engine of my car recently we found that several of the valves were burned. This led to speculation as to the cause. Do you think it was due to weak valve springs? G. H.

A. This could be the case, but now that the engine is back into shape again be sure to check for evidences of a too lean mixture. It can be due to too low carburetor float level, too lean idling adjustment, clogged jets or to a weak fuel pump.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese who once pulled a rickshaw for a living and who is a stern critic of the United States Friday became head of the powerful new Socialist party in Japan.

Slender, scholarly Mosaburo Suzuki was elected chairman of the new Socialist party at a convention that welded into one bloc the left and right wings which had been divided over policy since 1951.

The 62-year-old Suzuki predicted in an interview his forces will win 200 seats in the next election — perhaps next spring. They now have 155 votes in the 467-seat lower house of the Diet, dominated by Conservatives.

"And in the following election," he said, "we will win a majority."

held at Frederick last week. Larry Barnhart, Henry Lippincott, Albert Angell, Laverne Albaugh, Eddie Kauffman, Glen Copenhaver, Clyde Weant, Daniel Ridinger participated in the judging of dairy, livestock, and poultry. Results as yet have not been announced.

The first FHA meeting of the year was held in the home economics room in order to acquaint new members with the club's organization. Plans were discussed concerning a movie in the near future and the decorations of the health room. A contribution of $25 was made toward the purchase of an automatic washing machine. A get-acquainted party was planned for the near future.

David Bair led the Taneytown Key Club in the invocation at the weekly meeting in the home economics laboratory. Guest teacher was Robert Neal. The club will attend the Taneytown Trinity Lutheran Church on October 16. A committee was selected to arrange for the dance on November 4. Key-noters were given out to the members of the club.

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN — The regular meeting of the Women's Guild of the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church was held recently with the Missionary committee in charge. The program was opened with the call to worship by Mrs. Ned Musser, and included: Hymn: Scripture reading, Mrs. William Ailing; solo, Mrs. William Mehning with Mrs. George Motter, accompanist; readings, Mrs. Harry Clingan Mrs. Janet Smith, Mrs. George Fream, and Miss Mary Shriver. The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. G. Emerson Rue. November 13 was set for the Thank offering during the morning service with Mrs. Guy Benchoff as speaker.

The monthly meeting of the Taneytown Junior Girls 4-H club was held at the home of Anita Jester. Miss Joyce Riggs, assistant home economics demonstration agent, illustrated baking methods. A costume Halloween party and hay ride to Audrey Singel's home was planned for October 26. The group will meet at Miss Belya Koon's residence at 7 p.m. for the hay ride. Judy Halfey was named game committee chairman with Mary Baker and Sandra Cutsall as assistants. Audrey Angel, Jean Howarth, Anita Jester, and Mary Ellen Stonesifer are in charge of refreshments. Three new members were brought into the club: Nancy Myers, Sandra Cutsall, and Katherine Jennings. The next meeting is November 15 at Sandra Harvey's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence, near town, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anders, Washington, D. C.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shorb were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wiser, Hampstead.

BENSON WILL HELP TO SPEED FARM REVENUE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration leaders were reported Friday to have given Secretary of Agriculture Benson free rein to draft proposed additions to GOP farm policies designed to speed recovery of farm income.

The emphasis was on the term "addition" — because Benson has declared there will be no retreat from present Republican policies which feature flexible farm price supports as contrasted with high, rigid price floors of the Truman administration.

These reports came on the heels of a conference Benson held with Vice President Nixon Thursday. They also followed talk in farm circles that top administration officials were split on whether the government was doing enough to help farmers.

Sources close to Benson, who asked that they not be named, said the secretary was "quite happy" with recent developments, including his meeting with Nixon. Benson declared after his session with Nixon that "there is no split" within the administration over farm policies. "The Cabinet is solidly behind the administration," he said.

Nixon did not comment. He said in advance that Benson "will speak for me."

Hint "Impeachment" For Eavesdropping On Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators Eastland (D-Miss.) and Jenner (R-Ind.) left a hint of impeachment Friday in the wake of an investigation into the "eavesdropping" on jury deliberations as part of a research project.

They proposed turning a transcript of the hearings over to the House Judiciary Committee, saying they thought their own Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, "being a part of the Senate, could not properly inquire into the official conduct of a federal judge."

Any impeachment proceeding must originate in the House, although it would be tried in the Senate. Eastland declined however to say whether that was what he and Jenner were hinting at or to elaborate in any way on their statement. It did not refer directly to impeachment.

"Severe Punishment" They called also for legislation "to provide severe punishment" for any such future "invading the privacy of the jury room." A hearing transcript might be useful to a committee considering such legislation.

A University of Chicago research team made recordings of jury proceedings in May 1954 in five or six civil cases in a federal court in Wichita, Kan., presided over by Dist. Judge Delmas Hill. The team placed hidden microphones in the jury room, without letting the jurors know.

Witnesses testified that Judge

Hill and Chief Judge Orie Phillips of the 10th Judicial Circuit, embracing Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, had authorized the recordings under careful safeguards.

Judge Is Silent In Kansas City, Kan., where he is visiting, Judge Hill declined to comment at this time.

While Eastland and Jenner strongly condemned the "bugging" of the jury room, Paul Kitch, a Wichita corporation lawyer who testified he sold Dean Edward H. Levi of the University of Chicago Law School on the idea, was equally vigorous in defending it.

He said the underlying purpose was to obtain information that would strengthen public confidence in the jury system. He testified that he had won the support of a great many federal judges for the project.

Levi issued a statement after the hearings saying that they had shown "our jury study has been carried on under carefully established safeguards."

However, Eastland and Jenner contended in their statement that the circumstances were immaterial, saying:

"A juror must know that within the walls of the jury room he may speak freely, if his true and proper function as a juror is to be performed. This is a right which may not be transgressed by either attorneys or judges; it rests on a constitutional guarantee."

REDS FREE BUT IMPRISON MAN

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungary's Communist government says it is releasing Roman Catholic Archbishop Jozsef Groesz from prison, but it indicates he is being put under house arrest.

Radio Budapest announced Thursday night, "Dr. Groesz will take up residence in an ecclesiastical building to be assigned to him." Such announcements from the Communists usually mean the churchman is not allowed to resume his church office and is restricted to the residence assigned him.

The broadcast said the archbishop's 15-year sentence for plotting to overthrow the Communist regime was being "interrupted" at the request of Dr. Gyula Czapiek, archbishop of Eger and acting head of the Roman Catholic Church in Hungary.

The announcement added that four other imprisoned Catholic priests would be amnestied. They were identified as Dr. Mutka Imre, Janos Horvath, Janos Korpan and Jozsef Bardos. Their terms were not specified.

Archbishop Groesz was Hungary's highest ranking Catholic prelate after Josef Cardinal Mindszenty was imprisoned in 1948 on a treason charge. Archbishop Groesz was sentenced in 1951 in a continuing wave of Red attacks on the church.
